Restaurant Menus To Feature Less Bread and Oils

New O.P.A. Designed to Deploy More Food
Abroad if Customer
Doesn't Object

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The nation's restaurants and hotels can serve less bread and salad dressing than usual without trimming prices—if customers raise no objections.

O.P.A. authorized this today to help put into effect recommendations of the President's Food Emergency Committee that Americans cut down on these products so that more wheat and edible oils can be sent abroad.

Meanwhile, the government tried to solve a domestic food problem. The Office of Economic Stabilization, in an attempt to check what one official termed a "pretty serious black market in meat," ordered subsidy payments automatically reduced or in some cases forfeited when packers pay above-ceiling prices for cattle.

O.P.A. said eating places, including railroad dining cars, can reduce portions of wheat and oil products so long as they display a notice that this is being done, and provided they offer "to supply the normal portion to any customer who specifically requests it."

The restaurant order was the second issued by O.P.A. in line with the Food Emergency Committee's recommendations. Last week the agency authorized a reduction up to 10 per cent in the weight of bread loaves and bakery products, without a corresponding price cut.

The move against meat black markets was prompted, an O.P.A. official said, "by the difficulties many packers have been encountering in trying to buy cattle at legal prices."

He said the new subsidy withholding program could not wipe out black markets, but "it will help." Restoration of some wartime slaughterhouse controls will be required, the official added, if it is necessary to check illegal sales.

Earlier this week O.P.A. began investigations in Kansas city and Chicago of reports that mid-western packing houses were being outbid for cattle by eastern firms willing to pay above ceiling prices.

On the international side of the food picture, War Shipping Administration officials here disclosed that Russia has not yet received any of the 500,000 tons of wheat and barley she agreed to sell France.

U.S.A. spokesmen said three American ships that had been made available for the Russians at Odessa for shipment of the grain to France finally weighed anchor and left after Soviet port authorities said the grain was not available.

Politics and Dues Are In Spotlight at C.I.O. Atlantic City Convention

By FELIX B. WOLD
Atlantic City, N. J., March 22 (AP)—Union politics and dues commanded the attention today of the C.I.O. United Auto Workers Union on the eve of its 10th convention.

On one hand was the potential battle between R. J. Thomas and Walter P. Reuther for the union presidency—both Thomas, incumbent since 1938, blurted out inviting Reuther, U.A.W. vice-president, to enter the contest.

At the same time a proposal to double the membership dues, from $1 a month to $2, formally was placed before the auto union by its veteran secretary-treasurer, George F. Addes.

Addes, assailing in his annual report that "drastic action cannot be put off any longer," said the union's "ordinary income" had not been sufficient to meet expenditures since July of 1942. He had previously proposed a dues hike of $1.50.

Thomas, acknowledging a report that Reuther had decided to seek his job, welcomed the General Motors strike leader to make a try. Reuther has yet to commit himself publicly on accepting nomination in next week's convention elections.

"I say, come on in, the water's fine," Reuther wants to run," Thomas said, repeating his frequent expression that the U.A.W.-C.I.O. was a democratic union "with offices open to all."

Disagreements over policy have been reported in the union's high command, and Reuther supporters are proposing him for president, accused Thomas of playing Reuther against Addes for his own gain.

Aharath Israel Helps Red Cross

A. B. Shufeldt, chairman of the Red Cross fund drive, received a check for $331.74 from Herman G. Katalowski, representative of the Congregation Aharath Israel, which annually donates to worthy outside charities from the proceeds realized on its Thanksgiving Eve Ball. Mrs. Francis I. Craig, secretary of the Red Cross drive committee, stands by happy to record the donation which helped boost today's total to $32,000. The Eighth Ward of Kingston went over its $800 quota when Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, chairman, turned in $975. (Freeman Photo.)

City Police Board Accepts Chief Phinney's Resignation

Commissioners Express Regret at Loss of Efficient Servant
for 38 Years

Chief of Police Charles Phinney, after serving 38 years and four months as a member of the Kingston Police Department, will retire from active service on April 30. He filed his resignation with the Board of Police Commissioners at its meeting on January 17, and it was accepted with regret at the meeting of the police board yesterday.

With the retirement of Chief Phinney next month speculation is rife as to who his successor will be. If a promotion is made from the ranks it is likely that the choice will be between the present two police lieutenants, Ernest A. Ross and Frederick C. Stout; but, it is said, there is nothing in the civil service rules and regulations that will prevent the police board from appointing a chief outside the ranks of the department.

Stimson's Dairy Sheds New Light On Pearl Harbor

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Washington, March 22 (AP)—The peck Pearl Harbor committee got at former Secretary of War Stimson's diary brought a demand from Senator Brewster (R-Maine) today for the full document.

Brewster told reporters the diary excerpts which Stimson sent to the Senate-House investigating committee contained "highly interesting and heretofore undisclosed" information.

"I understand they are the parts he considers relevant to the inquiry," the Senator added. "No judicial body ever allowed a witness to determine what was relevant and what was not. We should have the full diary."

Seth Richardson, counsel for the committee investigating Japan's December 7, 1941, attack, made public yesterday a 36-page statement from Stimson and excerpts from the former cabinet officer supplied from his diary.

Rejected Attack
Among other things, these disclosed that the late President Roosevelt and his "war cabinet" considered but rejected on November 28, 1941, an attack on Japanese forces without further word if Japan went ahead with threatened aggression in southeast Asia.

The late President Roosevelt and his "war cabinet" considered but rejected on November 28, 1941, an attack on Japanese forces without further word if Japan went ahead with threatened aggression in southeast Asia.

Stimson's diary said he was inclined to the view that the United States would have been justified in such a course in view of the warning Mr. Roosevelt gave the Japanese ambassador in August that this country would protect itself.

City Employees May Get Withheld Pay by Submitting Verified Claims

City employees whose salary increases have been withheld since January 1, will not have to file suits against the city to obtain judgments, but may submit verified claims for the withheld increases, which will be audited by the Common Council and budget notes authorized to pay the claims, it was said today by a city official.

It is believed, said the city official, that under the decision rendered by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick in the recent action brought by the police and firemen, in which they obtained a judgment that the procedure of filing claims against the city instead of bringing suits, may be followed.

A directive issued by Mayor William F. Edelmuth to all department heads ordering payrolls be certified at the increased amounts opens the way for employees to file claims for salaries not paid them.

While these claims may be filed at the end of every payroll period, the city official said it was preferable to file the claims at the close of every three months period.

World Seeks Peace Stalin Declares In A.P. Interview

Certain Political Groups
Are Responsible for Current Worldwide
Fear of War

London, March 22 (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin told the Associated Press today "I am convinced that the nations nor their armies are striving for a new war."

"They want peace," Stalin said in the interview as broadcast from Moscow, "and are striving for a guarantee of peace."

"That means," Stalin added, "that the present fear of war is caused not from that quarter. I think that the present fear of war is caused by the activities of certain political groups who occupy themselves with propaganda for a new war and who are thereby sowing the seeds of discord and lack of confidence."

Moscow said AP Correspondent Eddy Gilmore asked Stalin what significance he attributed to the United Nations as a means of preserving international peace, and Stalin replied:

"I attribute great significance to the United Nations Organization since it is a serious instrument for the preservation of peace and international security."

"The strength of this international organization consists in the fact that it is based on the principle of the equality of the rights of states and not on the principles of the domination of some states over others."

"If the United Nations Organization succeeds in continuing to preserve the principle of equal rights it will undoubtedly play a great positive role in the cause of guaranteeing universal peace and security."

Stalin then was asked: "What should the governments of the freedom loving countries now do for the preservation of peace and order in the whole world?"

The radio said Stalin replied: "It is necessary that the public and the ruling circles of the powers organize a wide counter-propaganda against the propagandists of a new war and for the insuring of peace so that not a single act of the propagandists of a new war should remain without due rebuttal on the part of the public and press, so that the incendiaries of war may thus be exposed in good time and may have no chance of misusing freedom of speech against the interests of peace."

Adiournment Set
Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A resolution calling for adjournment of the 1946 session of the legislature at 3 p. m. Tuesday was passed unanimously today in both houses.

Chief Phinney rose from the ranks to head the police department, and he is considered one of the most efficient police heads in the state. He said today that he was not ready to announce his plans for the future when he lays aside his uniform.

The chief on January 2, 1908, was appointed to serve as a special policeman, and on May 17, he was appointed to serve as ordinance officer of the city.

Chief Phinney became a patrolman on December 7, 1909, and was elevated to the post of sergeant on February 6, 1917. He held the post of sergeant until September 1, 1937, when he was appointed lieutenant.

Became Chief in 1940
When Chief of Police J. Allan Wood resigned in 1939, Lieutenant Phinney was named as acting chief on December 1, of that year. He was appointed permanent head of the department on April 1, 1940, and has served as chief for the past six years.

Three years ago in 1943, Chief Phinney, having completed 35 years of police service, expressed a desire to retire, but at the request of the Board of Police Commissioners he had continued to serve.

Has Seen Many Changes
During the more than 38 years that he has served with the Kingston Police Department, Chief Phinney has seen many changes and improvements made in police work.

When he first entered the service the department maintained a horse-drawn patrol wagon, and

Senator From Minnesota
Attacks Suggestion U. S.
Destroy Atom

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said today those who cry "communism" at the sound of a kind word for Russia are blocking the most direct road toward an enduring peace.

The Florida senator told reporters he regards as part of "the current pattern of attack" assertions made by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) in opposing Pepper's suggestion that this country destroy its atom bombs and go into a Big Three meeting with "clean hands."

Ball said in a Senate speech yesterday that the American Communist Party is "beating the drums" against an Atomic Control Bill amendment which he described as "a minimum safeguard to national security" but which Pepper had criticized in his foreign policy address on Tuesday.

"I suggested that would be the first form of attack," Pepper said today. "You can be anti-Russian and be a good American but if you have a kind word to say for Russia you are called a Communist."

"I suspected that would be the first form of attack," Pepper said today. "You can be anti-Russian and be a good American but if you have a kind word to say for Russia you are called a Communist."

Asserting that his proposals "came from my own heart," Pepper added that he considers it "neither fair nor good judgment" to proceed on the premise that no agreement can be reached with Russia.

His Peace Formula
"Only by a reconciliation between the United States, Great Britain and Russia can we obtain lasting peace," he said.

Ball told his colleagues that destruction of this nation's atomic bombs and the plants in which they are made—as suggested by Pepper—would commit the United States to a policy of appeasement because of its resulting impotence.

"Russia still has an estimated 10,000,000 men under arms, and her armies are occupying Iran in violation of a treaty and threatening Turkey," the Minnesota said today.

"No one knows what secret weapon Russia has developed or is producing behind her iron curtain of isolation."

U. S. Forces Impotent
"On the other hand, the United States has demobilized so rapidly that our navy, army and air force are declared by our own military leaders to be relatively impotent."

What Senator Pepper proposes is that we strip ourselves of the only real military power we possess, the atomic bomb, and then confer with Russia about future security and peace.

The Minnesota senator quoted from an August 22, 1940, speech in the Congressional Record in which Pepper had attacked a Communist party anti-draft pamphlet, calling it "a sinister influence from Moscow."

Red Propaganda, He Says
"That was when Russia had a non-aggression pact with Hitler and the Communist party line was to oppose every effort to get America prepared," Ball said. "Unfortunately, Senator Pepper does not seem to recognize that the same kind of propaganda is being used now for the same purpose—to make America weak and impotent."

Ball said that Communists had raised the cry of "Fascism" against the atomic control bill amendment sponsored by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) to set up a military board that could appeal civilian commission decisions if they infringed on national security.

Netherlands To Get Two-Billion Loan

Washington, March 22 (AP)—A $200,000,000 loan to The Netherlands was announced today by the Export-Import Bank and Pieter Liefkink, Netherlands finance minister.

William McChesney Martin, bank chairman, said in a statement that terms of the loan and conditions under which private capital may participate in it will be announced soon.

He said the $200,000,000 would meet the most urgent needs of The Netherlands for American dollar credit until the new International Bank starts operating.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 22 (AP)—An array of politically powerful national organizations gathered today behind a drive to force the United States to ration cereals, fats and oils "which are desperately needed elsewhere."

Simultaneously they called for force of political refugees "without requiring the consent of their governments," and urged immediate creation of a new international organization to care for them until they can find new homes.

A total of 21 organizations signed the statement—Among them the National Grange, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Community Service Committee of the C.I.O. and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In their statement, observers for the organizations—here at the invitation of the State Department for the U.N.R.R.A. Council meeting—declared President Truman's emergency famine program was "insufficient to cope with the immediate threat of widespread famine and inadequate to fulfill America's moral obligation and responsibilities as a world leader."

"We therefore urge that the U. S. government set aside at the source greater amounts of those goods required for overseas relief, rationing at once in this country."

Housing Committee Reports On Freeman Questionnaire

The Kingston Housing Survey Committee met Thursday evening and tabulated statistics on housing needs in the city from information contained in 160 of the 225 replies received from the questionnaire that appeared in The Freeman.

The committee decided to send a return postcard to each one who filled out a questionnaire asking for additional information which the State Housing Commission desires.

It was announced at the meeting that it was expected that a representative of the State Housing Commission would meet with the local committee here on March 27.

The tabulation of the 160 questionnaires follows:

Soviet Troops Stay
State of Affairs Grave

Trouble Looms

New York, March 22 (AP)—Iran, which has protested to the United Nations the presence of Russian troops on its oil-rich territory, formally aligned itself with the United States today in opposing a Soviet request that the meeting of the 11-nation Security Council be delayed 16 days.

Such postponement—which would set back the opening meeting from next Monday to April 10—would inevitably result in increased harm to the interests of Iran," Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador, said in a letter to Trygve Lie, U.N.O. secretary general.

The Iranian letter came several hours after President Truman flatly declared that the scheduled meeting of the powerful Security Council would not be postponed and that the United States delegation would press for action on the Iranian case.

Hope for Immediate Action
Hussein Ala's letter, released here last night by U.N.O. officials, said the Iranian government hoped that consideration of its case against the Soviet Union "will not be delayed."

"At the conference in London decision was postponed upon the merits of the earlier dispute pending negotiation between the parties," the letter said and added:

Troops Remain
"These negotiations have failed. Meanwhile, March 2, the date fixed by the tripartite treaty, has passed and the Soviet troops have not been withdrawn. The obligation of the Soviet government to withdraw its forces from Iran is not a proper subject for negotiation under the charter of the United Nations or the constitution of Iran."

"The delays thus far permitted have intensified the critical conditions in my country caused by the failure of the Soviet Union to withdraw these troops. The state of affairs is very grave and further delays would inevitably result in increased harm to the interests of Iran."

"I shall be greatly obliged if you will have the kindness to communicate these views immediately to the members of the Security Council."

Council Members
Council members are the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France, China, Australia, Brazil, Poland, Holland, Egypt, and Mexico.

Earlier Benjamin Cohen of Chile, assistant secretary general of U.N.O., said the council would meet Monday and that the first item for consideration would be the provisional agenda.

The agenda, as it now stands, includes a report of the rules committee, a report of a committee on procedure, and the Iranian protest, he said.

Cohen said Iranian representatives may be permitted to address the Security Council and added that they would be seated at the council table after being invited.

Indict Colonel For Mistreating Prisoners

London, March 22 (AP)—U. S. Army Headquarters in London said today that charges of conspiracy "to inflict cruel, unusual and unauthorized punishment" on guardhouse prisoners had been brought against Col. James A. Kilian of Highland Park, Ill., former commander of the Tenth Reformatory Depot at Lichfield, and five other officers.

Maj. Richard D. Kearney, Staff Judge Advocate for the London area, said the charges, preferred "for investigation under the 70th Article of War," also included separate counts of misfeasance and malfeasance in office.

Kilian and others, of the six charged today appeared as witnesses earlier this year at the court martial of ten enlisted men and two officers accused of mistreating Lichfield prisoners.

Close Army Camp
New York, March 22 (AP)—The Army Second Service Command today announced that Camp Edison, near Sea Girt, N. J., has been declared surplus. The 168 acres on which the camp is situated were leased by the Army from the state of New Jersey in 1942. The camp was used as a part of the Signal Corps Replacement Training Center at nearby Fort Monmouth for basic instruction of Signal Corps personnel.

French Officials Visit Truman

A Postponement Would Harm Interests, Says Ala in Letter to the Security Council

Soviet Troops Stay State of Affairs Grave in Iran and Further Trouble Looms

New York, March 22 (AP)—Iran, which has protested to the United Nations the presence of Russian troops in its national territory, today is opposing a Soviet request that the meeting of the United Nations Security Council be delayed.

Such a postponement, which would set back the opening meeting from Monday to April 10—would "inevitably result in increased harm to the interests of Iran," Russian Ambassador, said in a letter to Secretary of State.

The Iranian letter came several hours after President Truman had declared that the scheduled meeting of the Security Council would not be postponed and that the United States delegation would press for action on the Iranian case.

Hope for Immediate Action
Roosevelt's letter, released here last night by U.N.O. officials, said the Iranian government hoped that consideration of its case against the Soviet Union "will not be delayed."

"At the conference in London decision was postponed until the merits of the earlier dispute pending negotiation between the parties," the letter said and added: "These negotiations have failed."

Meanwhile, March 2, the date when the Iranian case was to be considered, has passed and the Soviet troops have not been withdrawn. The obligation of the Soviet government to withdraw its troops from Iran is not a proper subject for negotiation under the charter of the United Nations or the constitution of Iran.

"The delays thus far permitted have intensified the critical conditions in my country caused by the failure of the Soviet Union to withdraw these troops. The state of affairs is very grave and further delays would inevitably result in increased harm to the interests of Iran."

"I shall be greatly obliged if you will have the kindness to communicate these views immediately to the members of the Security Council."

Council Members
Council members are the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France, China, Australia, Brazil, Poland, Holland, Egypt and Mexico.

Earlier Benjamin Cohen of Chicago, assistant secretary general of U.N.O., said the council would meet Monday and that the first item for consideration would be the provisional agenda.

The agenda, as it now stands, includes a report of the rules committee, a report of a committee on procedure, and the Iranian protest, he said.

Cohen said Iranian representatives may be permitted to address the Security Council, and added that they would be seated at the council table after being invited.

City Police Board Accepts Chief Phinney's Resignation

Commissioners Express Regret at Loss of Efficient Servant for 38 Years

Chief of Police Charles Phinney, after serving 38 years and four months as a member of the Kingston Police Department, will retire from active service on April 30. He filed his resignation with the Board of Police Commissioners at its meeting on January 17, and it was accepted with regret at the meeting of the police board yesterday.

With the retirement of Chief Phinney next month speculation is rife as to who his successor will be. It is likely that the choice will be between the present two police lieutenants, Ernest A. Boss and Frederick C. Stoudt, but it is said there is nothing in the way.

Chief Phinney rose from the ranks to head the police department, and he is considered one of the most efficient police heads in the state. He said today that he was not ready to announce his plans for the future when he lays aside his uniform.

The chief on January 2, 1908, was appointed to serve as a special policeman, and on May 17, he was appointed to serve as an ordinance officer of the city.

Chief Phinney became a patrolman on December 7, 1909, and was elevated to the post of sergeant on February 6, 1917. He held the post of sergeant until September 1, 1937, when he was appointed lieutenant.

Became Chief in 1940
When Chief of Police J. Allan Wood resigned in 1939, Lieutenant Phinney was named as acting chief on December 1, of that year. He was appointed permanent head of the department on April 1, 1940, and has served as chief for the past six years.

Three years ago in 1943, Chief Phinney, having completed 35 years of police service, expressed a desire to retire, but at the request of the Board of Police Commissioners he had continued to serve.

Has Seen Many Changes
During the more than 38 years that he has served with the Kingston Police Department, Chief Phinney has seen many changes and improvements made in police work.

When he first entered the service the department maintained a horse-drawn patrol wagon, and

City Employees May Get Withheld Pay by Submitting Verified Claims

City employees whose salary increases have been without since January 1, will not have to file suits against the city to obtain judgments, but may submit verified claims for the withheld increased wages. The city will be required to pay the withheld wages if the claims are verified.

The Mayor's Directive
The mayor's directive to all department heads was to "start with your present pay, and for the balance of the year, pay the city employees the amount of their withheld wages, if the claims are verified."

The directive is a result of a decision by the City Council, which is the governing body of the city, to pay the withheld wages if the claims are verified.

Cereals, Fats and Oils Are Products To Be Saved at Source to Help Combat Famine

Atlantic City, N. J., March 22 (AP)—An array of politically powerful national organizations gathered today behind a drive to force the United States to ration cereals, fats and oils which are desperately needed elsewhere.

Simultaneously they called for curbing political influences "which are preventing the passage of legislation which would permit the government to ration these commodities."

The drive is being led by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA), which is a United Nations agency for the relief and rehabilitation of war-torn areas.

also a horse-drawn ambulance. In later years the department began to expand and increase its efficiency.

The system was entirely motorized with the installation of radio patrol cars. The ambulance which the police had operated for years was disposed of, and ambulance service has since been taken care of by private concerns.

Chief Phinney saw the installation of the signal system, and the installation of the finger print system, and in the 1930's the present police radio station was placed in operation.

Today the police department under the administration of Chief Phinney is at a high peak of efficiency.

She was arraigned before Justice Willard H. Peet of Ellenville, who set the case for a hearing tonight at 7 o'clock.

It is charged that Mrs. Addis, while employed in the home of Meyer Regenbogen, C. P. A., of Ellenville, during the latter part of 1945, took a number of articles without going through the formality of securing permission from the owner. At the sheriff's office it was stated that a number of the missing articles already have been recovered.

Cornell Experiments Take Risk From Frozen Foods

Ithaca, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Cornell University scientists are removing the guesswork from frozen foods.

They have found out, for instance, that strawberries are ideal suited for freezing; that peaches have a better texture when they're canned; that leafy vegetables, such as lettuce, tend to wilt when the freezing process is applied.

The New York State Experiment Station at nearby Geneva, which is operated by Cornell, is conducting research to determine which foods are best adapted for freezing. At the University here, considerable emphasis is being placed on packaging and vitamin content.

Dr. W. A. Cortner of the Cornell School of Nutrition reports that research along these lines has brought to light at least four basic principles. They are:

(1) Poor packaging causes dehydration of frozen foods, thus shortening the length of time they can be kept.

(2) Tenderness, sweetness and high vitamin content are important factors in producing top quality frozen fruits and vegetables.

(3) Freezing is highly successful as a means of preserving flesh foods (meat).

(4) Freezing does not decrease vitamin content.

Moisture-vapor proof packaging is what the scientists recommend, but they say there's no such thing except hermetically sealed glass jars and tin cans. They do not agree that cellophane, however, while not 100 per cent moisture-vapor proof, is by far the best type of packaging material.

By actual test, the scientists have found that tenderness, sweetness and high vitamin content are more important for freezing than for canning. This means that for best results, foods to be frozen should be selected carefully for these qualities.

Y Drive Announces Co-Chairmen for Annual Campaign

Thomas A. Bohan, George H. DeKay, and Harold V. Clayton were named today as co-chairmen of the coming Y. M. C. A. drive April 24 to May 6. Dwight McEntee, Sr., named these men at a noon luncheon meeting where early plans were made for the drive.

Thomas A. Bohan acted as co-chairman last year when he was commander of the American Legion and an active member of the Business Men's group at the "Y". This year he assists in the drive not only as a member of the "Y" but as vice-county commander of the Legion. Herb DeKay is a member of the board of directors at the "Y" and always active in the drives in the past exemplifies the splendid cooperation of the local Boy Scout council by acting as one of the co-chairmen of the drive while at the same time is president of the Boy Scout Council.

Harold V. Clayton left with the State Guard in 1940 as a first lieutenant and was discharged with the rank of colonel. He is an officer of the State of New York Bank.

With emphasis on the youth program these men will build up an organization for the work ahead. According to General Chairman McEntee the Initial Gift Committee chairman will soon be named to carry the preliminary solicitations. The general chairman and his three associates are enthusiastic over the possibility this spring.

food such as cereals, fats and oils which are desperately needed elsewhere.

The organizations' demand came less than 48 hours after Director General Herbert Lehman appealed to the 47 members nations of UNRRA for return to stringent wartime food control—including rationing of commodities in short supply.

It came, too, on the eve of a new fight within UNRRA's council on the question of forcing displaced nationals to return to their homelands.

Fiorella La Guardia, former New York mayor was nominated yesterday by the Central committee, which directs UNRRA policy, to succeed Lehman who is retiring.

No vote will be taken on La Guardia's name until the end of the UNRRA meeting, now scheduled for late next week, but nomination by the Central committee is considered tantamount to election.

Black Market in Meat Is Branded a 'Myth' By Iowa O.P.A. Head

Des Moines, March 22 (AP)—Iowa O.P.A. Director Walter D. Kline declared today the black market in meat which packers have been talking about is a "myth."

"What the packers are complaining of is that they are in danger of losing their government subsidies," Kline said in an interview. "They should say so and not make charges that cannot be backed up with facts."

"If black market prices are being paid for meat, then it must be selling at more than ceiling prices on the retail market, and I don't believe the average retailer of meat is dishonest any more than the average meat packer."

The packers have charged that eastern slaughter houses were paying over-ceiling prices for live cattle in midwest markets, thus diverting beef into "illegitimate channels."

Kline said a large number of small, independent slaughter houses had been established in eastern states which have been licensed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

He explained that these small packers were licensed to grade their own beef while large middle-west packers are federally inspected and the government inspectors grade the beef.

This may result, he explained, in the eastern packers paying the top, or premium prices for cattle which under federal inspection would grade only for lower-grade commercial or utility beef.

The packers' problem is with the Agriculture Department, not the O.P.A., Kline said.

'Axis Sally' Will Face Treason Trial In United States

Conscience Clear She Says; Broadcast to Stop War Is Her Excuse

Berlin, March 21 (AP)—Justice Department representatives informed a woman accused as Berlin's "Axis Sally" today that she is to be taken to the United States and charged with treason.

The 37-year-old Portland, Me., native, identified by American Military Government officials as Mildred Gillars, has been under arrest in Zehlendorf since Friday night. In an interview today she referred to herself persistently as "Axis Sally" and told reporters:

"My conscience is clear, I have nothing to hide."

"Sally," whose jeering voice once was beamed nightly from Berlin to homesick G.I.'s in North Africa and later in Europe, is spending her time playing casino with her guards and writing a personal account of her adventures.

"Sally" toyed with an old Egyptian charm as she was questioned about her relations with the Nazis. She said she did not want "to defend" herself to the press because "I have millions of friends here and in the United States and I don't want to let them down."

"Everything I did was of my own free will," she said.

She said she was paid quite well, but that her main motive was to "stop the war."

She expressed interest in the penalty for conviction for treason, which she said she assumed was death or life imprisonment.

"It doesn't matter because I have lost everything anyhow," she said.

The woman said she came to Germany in 1934 to marry a German citizen, but that he died. She would not give his name.

"Had that not happened, I would have been a German citizen and expected to be loyal to Germany," she said.

Tall and fairly well dressed, her silver hair was neatly in place. She showed no effects of living from cellar to cellar in bombed-out Berlin, but said she had "walked thousands of miles" since last April. American agents discovered her in the British section March 16. They acted on a tip.

Her favorite trick was describing the comforts of the United States and what she called the folly of war against the Reich.

Cornell Experiments Take Risk From Frozen Foods

Ithaca N. Y. March 22 (AP)—Cornell University scientists are removing the guesswork from frozen foods.

They have found out for instance that straw berries are ideal for freezing. "In a previous experiment," they have found, "that leafy vegetables such as lettuce tend to wilt when the freezing process is applied."

The New York State Experiment Station at nearby Geneva which is operated by Cornell University, is starting to do tests in which foods are best adapted for freezing. At the University here, Cornell scientists are working on packaging and vitamin content.

Dr. W. A. Conner of the Cornell School of Nutrition reports that research along these lines has brought to light at least four basic principles. They are:

Black Market in Meat Is Branded a 'Myth' By Iowa O.P.A. Head

Des Moines, March 22 (AP)—Iowa O.P.A. Director Walter D. Kline declared today, the black market in meat which packers have been talking about is a "myth."

"What the packers are complaining of is that they are in danger of losing their government subsidies," Kline said in an interview. "They should say so and not make charges that cannot be backed up with facts."

"If black market prices are being paid for meat, then it must be selling at more than ceiling prices on the retail market, and I don't believe the average retailer of meat is dishonest any more than the average meat packer."

The packers have charged that eastern slaughter houses were paying over-ceiling prices for live cattle in midwest markets, thus diverting beef into "illegitimate channels."

Kline said a large number of small independent slaughter houses had been established in eastern states which have been licensed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

He explained that these small packers were licensed to grade their own beef while large midwest packers are federally inspected and the government inspectors grade the beef.

This may result he explained in the eastern packers paying the top or premium prices for cattle which under federal inspection would grade only for lower grade commercial or utility beef.

NAMES SUGGESTED

With the arrival of the ferryboat Richmond to operate on the Kingston-Rhinecliff route, several suggestions have been made to change the name of the vessel.

Prominently mentioned as possible names for the boat are Governor George Clinton, first governor of the state, and Senator Arthur H. Wicks, through whose efforts the ferry service has become a reality.

Governor Clinton took the oath of office as governor of the state in the summer of 1777 in front of the old courthouse on Wall street. The present courthouse stands on the site.

The body of the state's first governor now lies buried in the yard of the historic old First Dutch Reformed Church.

Senator Wicks is one of the outstanding members of the State Legislature. During the years he has represented Ulster county and this Senatorial District, he has been active in advancing all worthy activities in the district.

No one will contest the fact that it is largely through the efforts of Senator Wicks that the bill providing for the building of a bridge between this city and Rhinecliff has been passed by the State Legislature, and is now before the governor for his signature.

Senator Wicks assured the people of Kingston and Ulster county that pending the building of a bridge, there would be ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

The ferry has been purchased and service will be resumed next month.

WRITE TO THE GOVERNOR

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce has started a drive in Kingston and Ulster County urging residents to send communications to Governor Thomas E. Dewey to sign the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Bill.

Residents of Ulster County as well as those of Rhinecliff and upper Dutchess County should act immediately to make known their desires to have this bridge erected as soon as possible. Write or wire your support now. A suggested type of letter was published in Thursday's issue of The Freeman.

On a matter of such tremendous importance to these regions, it would appear that the people who will be directly affected should need no exhorting. We should be eager to express our sentiments, and let the governor know how we feel about the bridge.

We are not deserving of securing the bridge, if we stand by with tongue-in-cheek waiting for the other fellow to do it.

It is claimed that the greater the volume of messages received in Albany and the more diversified the groups of individuals sending them, the better will be our chances.

Send in your letter to the governor today.

HOW BIG IS THE BOMB?

Little by little more information is coming out about the atomic bomb. For a long time most people had no idea as to its size. Its explosive powers have been so greatly emphasized that the actual size of the bomb seemed a minor matter. Such terrific force could wreak immense havoc even if encased in nothing larger than a tennis ball.

Now it appears that the bomb is much larger. Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, atom bomb chief, told a news conference that the B-29 Superfortress is the only known existing plane that can carry it.

For that matter, who would want to carry it?

The New York State Food Merchants' Association declares the black market in butter can be broken if butter production is stimulated by ceilings and allocations that make it profitable and necessary for the farmer to sell more of his butterfat for butter instead of diverting it to other dairy products. It is time something was done about the black market.

KING VETO

The majority vote implies that all those assembled for mutual agreement accept the theory of equality without the slightest regard to the fact of equality. In a word, the strong and the weak have one vote each, no more, no less. In the League of Nations, this proved an impediment to the strong who at one time found policy determined by such countries as Spain, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia, whereas responsibility for the enforcement of policy lay with Great Britain, France and the tacit support of the United States.

When the League faced the Manchurian and the Ethiopian issues, it was not the eloquence of Madariaga that mattered but the willingness of Great Britain and the United States to enforce the sanctions of the League. The United States was willing so far as Manchuria was concerned, but not Great Britain; therefore the League of Nations collapsed as an agency for the enforcement of peace and justice.

U.N.O. faces this same problem, but more acutely. Here the instrument of the veto is substituted for the majority vote. Either one of the great powers may, at its discretion and even in its own interests, exercise the veto to the detriment of world peace and justice. From its very first session, U.N.O. exists in the shadow of the veto.

Yet, if there is to be justice, the smallest country must be entitled to its day in court and the unafraid and uncoerced judgment of the world. The case of Iran is really of no importance to the United States, which has no vital interests in that country. But if Iran can be subjugated in time of peace and forced to accept an agreement against her will, or by threat of civil war, or by overt corruption of her officials, the U.N.O. has lost its first battle for existence.

The United States faced precisely that problem at the very beginning of its national life. A federation of loosely associated former colonies of Great Britain, tied together tenuously by the wish for national solidarity without loss of independent sovereignty, the states might have withheld the authority from the federal government essential for effective administration. The problem was to make the Constitution rather than the passing whims of individuals binding. John Marshall asserted, for the Supreme Court, the rights which established the American constitutional state.

Marbury vs. Madison was not over a great issue, it actually involved nothing more than justice of the peace. Yet, Justice Marshall used this vehicle to assert high and binding national principle. He said:

"The government of the United States has been emphatically termed a government of laws, and not of men. It will certainly cease to deserve this high appellation if the laws furnish no remedy for the violation of a vested legal right."

Then he said:

"That the people have an original right to establish, for their future government, such principles as, in their opinion, shall most conduce to their own happiness is the basis on which the whole American fabric has been erected. The exercise of this original right is a very great exertion, nor can it, nor ought it, to be frequently repeated. The principles, therefore, so established, are deemed fundamental. And as the authority from which they proceed is supreme . . . they are designed to be permanent."

"This original and supreme will organizes the government, and assigns to different departments their respective powers. It may either set for its action, or establish certain limits not to be transcended by those departments."

And finally:

"If the former part of the alternative be true, then a legislative act contrary to the constitution is not law; if the latter part be true, then written constitutions are absurd attempts. . . ."

The Charter of U.N.O. is in the nature of a Constitution, by ordinary means unchangeable. It will live or die by the early precedents set for its action. If King Veto remains supreme, the U.N.O. has no future. Its epitaph has already been written.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS

I was making a social visit on a newsboy boxer in a tuberculosis sanitarium when I noticed a former heavyweight boxer being placed in an adjoining bed. To my questioning look he simply stated: "I've been lying here for two years, I think I can stick it out."

While rest is the biggest factor in resting a tuberculous lung, bed rest of months and years is not the routine treatment today. Thus an answer to the question, "What is the present opinion on the use of bed rest in pulmonary tuberculosis?" The Journal of the American Medical Association makes answer.

"Bed rest is not used as much as formerly because other procedures have replaced it in many instances. Twenty-five years ago it was generally believed that every patient should have a period of bed rest to give Nature an opportunity to control the disease before any other procedure was followed."

Today, even in early cases, artificial pneumothorax is used. This is pumping air into the space between the lungs and the lining of the chest wall. Another method of resting the affected lung is cutting out a portion of several ribs which prevents the ribs moving the lung and preventing rest.

Of course where there is infection (tuberculosis) in both lungs, bed rest, though a long process, is treatment given. Also there are cases where patients refuse any form of treatment that means operation of any kind even the insertion of the needle through which air is pumped in pneumothorax. In these cases that refuse operative treatment of any kind or in cases where both lungs are infected, or one lung more than the other, the patient is instructed to lie on the side of the diseased lung as long as possible each day. A small, hard pillow usually is placed beneath the ribs. The lung on the side on which the patient lies undergoes less movement than the opposite lung during breathing and so gets more rest. By raising foot of the bed the abdominal organs push up against floor of chest and give affected lung still more rest.

Rest is still the big factor in curing tuberculosis but there are short cuts in obtaining it.

Minority members voted for the transfer, but then supported Wachtel in moving to force from committee for a vote a counter-proposal to keep the program in the War Council. Wachtel said he believed the legislature should pass both measures, leaving the decision to the Governor.

Bills signed by Governor

Bills signed by the Governor extended until July 1, 1947, the suspension of a bill prohibiting purchase of oleomargarine by state institutions, and requiring the State Comptroller to appoint four instead of three Deputy Comptrollers.

Companion bills increasing state aid to County Farm and Home Bureaus and 4-H Clubs by a total of about $185,000 a year were passed in each house. Both houses also passed a resolution creating a 10-man committee to study the social, educational and physical problems of persons afflicted with cerebral palsy.

Bills passed by the Assembly and sent to the Governor would: Increase the pay of Court of Claims Judges from $10,000 to $12,000 a year.

It Feels So Good When I Quit

BABSON ON BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES RUSSIA

Washington, D. C., March 22.—Let us start with three statements with which most intelligent people agree:

1. Notwithstanding Churchill's blast, no group NOW wants a war with Russia. Surely the vote of the United States would be 100 per cent against it NOW, although we are better prepared for it NOW than we may ever be again.

2. Most of all, Russia does not want another war NOW. She knows that we saved her in World War II; and she knows she would lose all her gains with a World War III NOW.

3. Our State Department is so divided into Catholics, Protestants, New Dealers and Capitalists that it cannot agree upon any foreign policy NOW—to say nothing of agreeing to fight Russia NOW.

Hence, there is no possibility of a war with Russia for an indefinite period.

Is War III Probable?

It is safe to add a fourth forecast, viz:—If our present dilly-dally, contradictory, inconsistent and silly foreign policy continues long enough, we may have a war with Russia someday. Then, the U. S. and Britain will not be so well prepared as we are today; while Russia could then be very much stronger and in addition will have all atomic bomb secrets. Only a spiritual awakening of our State Department, or a split-up of Russia into two or more nations, can prevent such a conflict.

Conditions today are almost identical with those following World War I. Instead of a German Hitler, there can soon develop a Russian Hitler. Great Britain again has a Labor Government; France again is playing politics and talking pacifism; while U. S. mothers merely "wanna get their dear boys home." World War 2 would have been unnecessary had it been "nipped in the bud." World War 3 can be prevented by joining on a fair, but firm, foreign policy, backed up by force.

What This Means to Business and Investors

Hence, businessmen and investors have nothing NOW to fear from Russia. For the past year I have been forecasting a break in the stock market "due to a Russian scare." This recently occurred when stocks lost billions of dollars in a few days. Now this is probably over and we should go merrily along for awhile with better business and higher stock prices.

This present Russian scare should make Congress more willing to appropriate funds for national defense, cause it to help the British Empire and to encourage that Empire to do more for her Colonies. The best way to combat Communism is for Capitalism to insure a higher-standard-of-living and greater security than does Communism. The new Atomic Energy may succeed in doing this.

I feel as President Truman and Mr. Churchill agreed at Fulton, Missouri, on March sixth: "These are perilous times. The world either is headed for destruction or for the greatest age of progress in history." If we are to have the latter, this is a time to hold good stocks; while if we are to witness destruction, then it will make no difference whether we have cash, stocks or government bonds!

Nationalists vs. Inter-Nationalists

Our people, unfortunately, are divided into either Isolationalists or Non-Isolationalists. One group thinks we should be content to put our own house in order before mixing up with the rest of the world. The other group goes to an opposite extreme and thinks that through the United Nations Organization—we can NOW run the world and give every nation the Four Freedoms.

Both of the above groups are wrong. Either group could get us into trouble. President Truman should clean out our present State Department and substitute therefor a united Department with a middle-ground but firm policy. This policy should be "Limited Internationalism." It should be free from politics, prejudice and philanthropy. It should have one aim; namely, to interfere only in those spots which are liable to get us into war if left to smolder.

Believe in the U.N.O.

I believe in the United Nations Organization and hope it will succeed, but democracy is too young a child to NOW depend upon it exclusively. But important Foreign Notes should be issued only when approved by Congress—in advance—coupled with a willingness to declare war if said Notes are ignored. Otherwise, we should mind our own business.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., March 22.—Repeal of the state's war emergency act, spelling the end of the War Council and its many regulations, is provided in a bill before Governor Dewey for his expected approval.

The Senate completed legislative action yesterday on the measure, abolishing the state's war laws April 1. Some wartime regulations including military leaves of absence for public officials are retained in separate legislation.

Senate Republicans, meanwhile, beat back a Democratic attempt to halt Dewey's proposed transfer of the state's child care centers from War Council jurisdiction to the State Youth Commission.

Senator Arthur Wachtel, Bronx Democrat, asserted that Dewey had been "ill-advised" in proposing the transfer, since the Youth Commission was "not prepared financially to assume the responsibility." The centers were created to provide daytime care for children of servicemen or working parents.

Minority members voted for the transfer, but then supported Wachtel in moving to force from committee for a vote a counter-proposal to keep the program in the War Council. Wachtel said he believed the legislature should pass both measures, leaving the decision to the Governor.

The Democratic motion, how-

High Service Officials Might Do Well to Realize That Unification of Forces Calls for Cooperation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 22.—President Truman may urge and Congress may even some day legislate a merger of the armed services, but it will be a useless move unless some way is found to remove the bitterness which apparently is increasing as between the Army Air Forces and the U. S. Navy in certain important segments of personnel.

Naval circles have resented for some time the derogatory remarks made about the Navy by various Army Air Force generals in the field even during the war. These were reported to Washington from time to time. But the sensation now is the speech alleged to have been made on the night of March 14th by General Spaatz, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, at a private dinner given by the Aviation Writers Association.

General Spaatz is being quoted as having launched a tirade, against the Navy, questioning why the United States should have a Navy now. He is reported to have said that, since the Russians have little or no Navy and the Japanese Navy has been sunk and Germany never did have much of a Navy, the navies of the rest of the world are negligible. He is said to have remarked also that the Navy has no enemies to fight any more except the Army Air Forces.

General Spaatz is credited with having declared, also, that there was no need of a separate air force for the Navy and that air forces from carriers would be a waste of taxpayers' money. Some comments were reported to have been made by the general about the impossibility of launching atomic bombs from carriers. The Navy's technical men say the general is mistaken and that it is possible to build naval carriers which can operate the same weight aircraft as the B-29 and that atomic bombs can be dropped even now at great ranges from existing carriers.

But the main point is that someone ought to take these high officers and sit them down together in a room and teach them that this business of disparaging any armed service isn't good from any viewpoint—not even from a practical side, for if unification is to be achieved at all it must be within a spirit of cooperation and not distrustiveness.

The Army Air Forces have done a magnificent job. Nobody in his right mind has ever disparaged the marvelous work of the Air Forces from land bases, but can't the Army Air Force generals concede also that maybe Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet with its carrier did help to defeat Japan or that the Marines, which are a part of the Navy, did help to get the bases at Iwo Jima and Saipan and Guam from which the Army Air Forces launched their attacks including the atomic bombs?

There was glory enough for all in the last war, including the infantry and artillery—which services won many a mile of terrain in cloudy, snowy weather when planes couldn't help them. If General Spaatz did make the remarks attributed to him, he owes an apology to the Navy, and nothing would be more conducive to the ultimate achievement of a unified armed service than if someone who had made a mistake apologized for it and admitted he might have been wrong.

General Spaatz is an able commander. He succeeds an exceptional one, General Arnold. But if the new commander of the Army Air Forces said what is being attributed to him in the reports that are coming out about that Aviation Writers Association dinner, he has made his own participation in future meetings of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff of questionable value. A forthright denial that any such statement was made would be reassuring and, if something like it was said, an explanation of what was said meant would be in order so as to bring harmony where today there is disunity among the high officers of our armed services.

WAR MEMORIALS TO EXPOSE WAR CAUSES!

It's raining "war memorials" again; but a fitting memorial to the war, and to the men it killed and crippled, is the one thing too often omitted from the plans.

We're getting a little farther away from granite shafts and million-dollar marble palaces full of silk flags, bronze plaques and cement benches; but many of us who now suddenly condemn such extravagances as "useless" are losing sight of the "memorial" concept altogether, in our drift to the greater "utility" of a swimming pool, auditorium, stadium or skating rink.

The latter are no doubt pressing needs in some communities. No doubt, they should have priority over the "useless" kind of memorial. But surely it will not be contended that they have any logical relationship to any aspect of war. Then why call it a World War 2 Memorial Skating Rink? Isn't a skating rink or a swimming pool too trivial and too carelessly inappropiate a way to "hallow" the memory of thousands of men who can never skate or swim again? Will stadiums full of healthy Americans and auditoriums full of Shakespeare and Tchaikovsky summon to our minds the memory of our boys?

Maybe we'd better start searching for souls for the specific aspects of the war which we really want to memorialize in good conscience. Is it the war itself as a cataclysmic event—a terrible cyclone? Then why not Cyclone Memorials? Is it the bare, tragic fact of death or disability for hundreds of thousands of fine men? Then why not monuments to the tragic victims of earthquakes and floods? Is it the mere physical power with which our nation beat down the desires of other nations? Then why not a nation full of memorials to our Olympic teams, foreign traders and international bankers?

Surely we can be guided in making our plans for new "war memorials" by worthy and less domestic motives than a mere desire to enhance our own immediate, physical pleasure. Only a shallow conscience and an empty ego can be soothed into believing that a half-million dollar World War 2 Memorial swimming pool or sports arena is dedicated more to the eternal memory of the fallen G.I. than to years of exciting pleasure for our living selves.

By all means, let's have the pools and sportsplaza where needed and where they can be afforded—but free of the "war memorial" hypocrisy. Then we can get down to the serious business of establishing real war memorials—memorials which will keep us permanently reminded of the essential tragedy of war itself. There is nothing more needed by the living—or more deserved by the dead—than that it may be worth, here a suggested form such a memorial might take.

For only $15,000 (only 3 per cent of the half-million-dollar memorial funds nonchalantly talked of in many American communities), the following things could be done annually by any one or all of scores of cities and states:

What's Up

Moscow, March 22 (P)—Frank Roberts, British charge d'affaires, visited the Soviet Foreign Ministry for 90 minutes last night in the midst of a diplomatic reception at the Afghan Embassy. There was much speculation among Roberts' foreign colleagues, but no official explanation of the visit.

Legislative Roundup

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (P)—Republican legislative ranks split wide open today over the political hot St. Lawrence seaway issue and the break indicated Assembly approval of a Democratic resolution condemning the proposed project.

Although Governor Dewey has repeatedly endorsed the deep waterway development, a considerable number of Republican legislators are bitterly opposed to it and are expected to line up with the Democrats in the showdown vote in the Assembly Tuesday.

Associates of the Governor concede that Republican opposition to his position likely would be used by the Democrats in an effort to embarrass him in the gubernatorial election campaign next fall. But they insist Dewey is ready to meet the St. Lawrence issue head-on against U. S. Senator James M. Mead or any other candidate nominated by the Democrats for Governor.

Mead is one of the nation's foremost opponents of the seaway development. The floor fight in the larger house was assured last night when the Republican-controlled Assembly rules committee reported out the Quinn resolution asking Congress to reject legislation for development of the river.

Assemblyman John P. Quinn, Buffalo Democrat and sponsor of the resolution, amended it yesterday to include a declaration in favor of developing the power resources of the river.

That is exactly Mead's position and, now, that of the Democratic party in this state. Advocates of the project insist it would not be practicable to develop power without constructing the seaway, and vice versa.

The Democrats are counting

chiefly on the support of the Republican Assemblymen from the port cities of New York and Buffalo.

Meanwhile the Senate received Assembly-approved bills implementing Dewey's $14,000,000 public health program providing for state aid to local health departments and intensification of the fight against tuberculosis.

Legislative action was postponed until Monday on proposed constitutional amendments lengthening the term of state Senators from two to four years and prohibiting a political party from nominating any candidate not enrolled in the party. The latter proposal would have the effect of preventing nominees of the major parties from running also on minority tickets.

Kiwanis Club Sees Technicolor Films Of Mexico City

Technicolor films showing scenes in the city of Mexico and in Tehuantepec occupied the program hour at Kiwanis Thursday noon and proved to be highly interesting.

There were views of prominent buildings and street scenes, the market place with the Mexican girls in colorful dress selling produce and wares of various kinds, or bringing their wares to market, stepping briskly along with the large baskets balanced upon their heads, a Mexican wedding scene, street parades, etc.

At Tehuantepec were shown views of the ancient mounds and temples, with their ornate decorations, statues and symbols, which Mexican and other scientists have long been working at to unravel their secrets.

The pictures were shown through the courtesy of Herbert Greenwald of the Greenwald Travel Agency.

Lieut. Governor of the Second Division, Edward M. Huben, expressed his gratification at the honor paid to him Tuesday evening when the Putnam county club celebrated lieutenant governor's night at Mahopac. All Kiwanis clubs in the Second Division were well represented—Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Beacon, Middletown, Port Jervis, Putnam county—and also there was a delegation from the Peekskill club. There were 11 present from Kingston. Among those attending were two past governors and seven past lieutenant governors. Paul A. Zucca was the song leader for the occasion and was reported to have been in fine fettle.

A resolution asking Governor Dewey to sign the bill providing for a bridge over the Hudson at Kingston was passed unanimously after having been signed by individual members of the club.

Next Thursday members of the championship DUSO League basketball team—Kingston, High school, will be guests at the regular Kiwanis meeting.

Fire Destroys Red Cross Clubhouse at Samchok

Seoul, Korea, March 22 (P)—The fifth fire in recent months to sweep a Red Cross installation in the Seventh Division area today destroyed the organization's clubhouse at Samchok, fishing community on the east coast.

The club was operated for men of the First Battalion's 32nd Regiment by Doris Larsen, West Englewood, N. J.; Fortilla Sullivan, Somersworth, N. H.; and Marion White, 99 Plymouth avenue, Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Boomerang
Walla Walla, Wash., March 22 (AP)—For months Secretary-Man-ager Al McVay of the Chamber of Commerce campaigned for removal of a hitching post still standing near the federal building as a reminder of a not-so-modern era.

Gas Warfare
Kewanee, Ill., March 22 (AP)—Classes at the Ottagon school in Burns township were dismissed and the 20 pupils sent home when a group of skunks moved in under the school house.

'Axis Sally' Will Face Treason Trial In United States

Conscience Clear She Says; Broadcast to Stop War Is Her Excuse

Berlin, March 21 (AP)—Justice Department representatives informed a woman accused as Berlin's "Axis Sally" today that she is to be taken to the United States and charged with treason.

The 37-year-old Portland, Me., native, identified by American Military Government officials as Mildred Gillars, has been under arrest in Zehlendorf since Friday night. In an interview today she referred to herself persistently as "Axis Sally" and told reporters:

"My conscience is clear, I have nothing to hide."

"Sally," whose jeering voice once was beamed nightly from Berlin to homesick G.I.'s in North Africa and later in Europe, is spending her time playing casino with her guards and writing a personal account of her adventures.

"Sally" toyed with an old Egyptian charm as she was questioned about her relations with the Nazis. She said she did not want to "defend" herself to the press because "I have millions of friends here and in the United States and I don't want to let them down."

"Everything I did was of my own free will," she said.

She said she was paid quite well, but that her main motive was to "stop the war."

She expressed interest in the penalty for conviction for treason, which she said she assumed was death or life imprisonment.

"It doesn't matter because I have lost everything anyhow," she said.

The woman said she came to Germany in 1934 to marry a German citizen, but that he died. She would not give his name.

"Had that not happened, I would have been a German citizen and expected to be loyal to Germany," she said.

Fall and fairly well dressed, her silver hair was neatly in place. She showed no effects of living from cellar to cellar in bombed-out Berlin, but said she had "walked thousands of miles" since last April.

American agents discovered her in the British section March 16. They acted on a tip.

Her favorite trick was describing the comforts of the United States and what she called the folly of war against the Reich.

Takes a Sheriff

Judge Robert Thompson of the Pulaski Circuit Court solved that problem this week by ordering the sheriff of his own county (Pulaski) to take Sheriff Harold Smith of Cass county to the state penitentiary to be held until he pays $600 ordered due his divorced wife for support of their two children. Mrs. Smith's suit had been transferred from Logansport in Cass county to Winamac.

Two G.I.s on a day off were strolling along a suburban road.
Just outside London, when they saw a building with a sign over the archway in front: "HALL OF REMEMBRANCE," the British phrase for crematorium. With the usual G.I. curiosity, one of them
went in to see what it was.

A few moments later he came rushing out as though the devil himself were pursuing him. To the other G.I.'s question as to why he had rushed out, he replied:
"G.I.—Darned if I know. I walked in and there were a lot of people dressed in black, standing around a pit from which flames seemed to be coming. Some of them were crying. All I said before
I got thrown out, was: 'Hi, ya,
folks! What's cooking?'"

Third Boy—That's nothing. My

men to bring in the money.

Albany and Weaver Are Named on All-DUSO Basketball Team

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

The Hudson Valley Bowling League title has come to Kingston for the first time since the organization of the loop. Interment services for the Newburgh Finnegans were conducted last night before a large gallery at the Recs on alleys 5 and 6. The Finnegans needed three games and came away with many one. They were tight and precise, while the thoroughly relaxed Dairymen poured it on to top three.

Van Kleeck's will go down as one of the most amazing teams in the city's history. The fact that they captured Kingston's only valley title will forever remain a tribute to their gallant resourcefulness. They won every time they had to. That's all you can ask of any champion.

It was no clown outfit that was buried in the 5 and 6 planks last night. The Finnegans represent the cream of the Newburgh crop, but they didn't have it in Kingston this year. They dropped eight out of nine to Kingston squads. You have to go back a long time to recall anything equaling that performance. Had they split even on local drives it would have been a much closer race.

Tony Mack looked pretty sure last night and the whole Finnegans squad struggled to solve the mystery of alley 5. If the Newburghers had come to Kingston with intentions of arranging a duel between Ferraro and Mack, they forgot it quickly. Not even a feller was passed out. It was a big night for The Ace.

He shot high triple of 626 and was presented with a silver A.B.C. belt buckle for his 299 score. John MacLellan of the K.B.A. made the presentation.

Flotsam and Jetsam

The Red Cross collection amounted to $20.35. . . . The regular campaign gets under way Sunday night. . . . Rose Schatzel will collect in the Mixed League, with Dot Flemings and her assistants canvassing the remainder of the leagues. . . . Kingston will send six squads to the New York State Women's tournament in Albany. . . . Poughkeepsie is raving over the proposed 32-alley layout. . . . Bob Stone, Poughkeepsie scribe, says it will be the last word in bowling establishments. . . . Frank "Boots" Leskie, who is one of the heavier study leads in bowling, is rated the most improved bowler of the season in the male ranks. . . . Betty Boyce would seem to rate that distinction among the girls.

Around the nation's wheel: The O'Rourke bowling team of the Kansas Classic League, is the first to enter the Los Angeles tournament. . . . Walter Ward trounced Andy Varipapa in a 30-game test in Cleveland in a match in which Ward threw his ball down the left side of the alley. . . . Ned Day, the former national match kingpin, has the trickiest pair of home alleys in the business. . . . Marty Cassio, the Rahway shooter, is the only visitor ever to average 200 there in competition against Day. . . . Day incidentally leads the 10-year averages in the A.B.C.

VanKleeck Keglers Champs of Valley; Jones Wins Three

Dairymen Blast Hopes of Finnegan Behind Ferraro and Broskie Thursday Night

A helping hand was extended to the Van Kleeck keglers last night by Ad Jones and his teammates at the Central Recreation alleys when the dairymen blasted all hopes of the Newburgh Finnegans by winning three straight games. The triple setback for the Hilly City keggers allowed the Van Kleeck team to back into the championship of the Hudson Valley League. Vans now have a five game lead with only three more left to play. The league will wind up its schedule this week-end.

It was the Jones' all the way Thursday night. Harry scores by Johnny Ferraro, Harold Broskie, Ad Jones, Charlie Tiano and Ad George Flemings sent Jones to a 2861 team triple and individual games of 956, 925 and 980. Newburgh's biggest bid for victory came in the final game when they rolled up a 968 score.

Ferraro was the big gun for the dairymen with his high series of 629 on scores of 227, 211 and 191. Broskie followed the sharper with 182, 215 and 210 for a cool 607. T. Jones of Newburgh sparked his club with a 577.

New York, March 22 (AP)—Tippy Larkin, Garfield, N. J., welterweight, again is favored to defeat Nick Moran of Mexico City when they meet tonight in a return 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden. Larkin won a close decision in their first meeting last November 16.

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

Step or Slide? The question of whether to step or slide to the foul line in completing the bowling stride, whether using three, four or five steps, confuses a Philadelphia beginner.

'Footwork' is referred to as 'steps taken,' but actually, to clarify the point, the final 'step' is a slide.

Only by getting the left foot well ahead, either by sliding on it or with a long finishing step in the case of an exceptionally tall bowler, is it possible to have the body balance for a smooth delivery at the foul line. The accompanying illustration shows perfectly the slide action of the left foot, which effects a centered balance of the body on both legs—the left arm extends or stretched out for added balance.

The final step slide should come natural. The weight is on the ball of the foot at first and as the slide is completed or checked, the heel contacts the floor. The right foot drags along loosely while the weight is riding on the left leg, then checks or 'brakes' abruptly as the left heel stops the slide.

There must be a feeling of total body relaxation when the final step (slide) is reached. No tense, nervous whatever. At that point the body is dropped in a natural crouched position caused by the weight of the swinging ball. The left knee is bent, so that the ball, swinging low, follows a line slightly below the level of the knees. (Copyright, 1946, by John F. Dille Co.)

Florida City Bars Montreal Negroes From Game Sunday

Jacksonville, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Jackie Robinson and John Wright, negro players for Montreal in the International League, will be prohibited from participating in an exhibition game with Jersey City here Sunday by a regulation of the Jacksonville Play ground and Recreation Board.

George Robinson, executive secretary for the board, said last night that "rules, regulations and policies of the Jacksonville Play ground and Recreation Board prohibit mixed contestants in athletic events on their facilities."

"This means," that board secretary explained, "that white and negro athletes can not play together and would serve to bar any negro player from the game here Sunday."

The city official said the Montreal Club could bring second baseman Robinson or any other negro player it wished to Jacksonville but that no negro player would be permitted to play.

The city regulation has been in effect for years, the Recreation Department secretary said.

Legislature Okays Ski Trail on Belleayre

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment permitting construction of ski trails in three counties has the approval of the legislature today.

The measure, however, must be passed by next year's legislature and approved by the people before becoming effective.

The proposal, previously passed by the Senate, won Assembly approval by a 115-5 vote yesterday.

It would permit the state to build not more than 20 miles of trails, 30 to 80 feet wide, on Belleayre Mountain in Ulster and Delaware counties, and up to 30 miles of trails on Gore, South and Pete Gay Mountains in Warren county.

The following is a report of the standings in last report card period.

Evelyn Wagner and Raymond Terhune average 99.

Beverly Neer and Grace Lennon, said Blair Gullion of the University of Connecticut, former Cornell coach who served as athletic director for the Army Air Forces' Technical Training Command.

Gullion said a great many top-notch players were developed while in the service and that this will result in a noticeable improvement in the game.

Among coaches who served as athletic officers or civilian consultants in combat or occupation zones it was agreed that basketball was the most popular sport played by servicemen.

Tarheels Triumph Over N.Y.U. 57-49 In Gotham Tourney

New York, March 22 (AP)—New York University, once regarded as the outstanding basketball team in the country, has failed in its bid to retain its Eastern N.C.A.A. Basketball Championship.

The Violets, pre-game favorites, took a 57 to 49 pasting from North Carolina in the semi-finals at Madison Square Garden last night before 18,452. North Carolina thus demonstrated its early season 43-41 victory over the New Yorkers was no fluke.

Sparked by John "Hook" Dillon, who flipped in 15 points, the White Phantoms pulled away to an early 20-10 lead and dominated the game throughout, staying off a late N.Y.U. bid when the Violets got within five points at 36-31.

North Carolina thus won the right to meet Ohio State, Big Ten champions, for the eastern crown on Saturday night. The Buckeyes, who lost to N.Y.U. in last year's eastern final, defeated Harvard, 46 to 38, in the other semi-final clash.

Riggs Wins in Troy

Troy, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Bobby Riggs recovered from a first set loss last night to score his sixth successive victory over Don Budge on the pair's cross country exhibition professional tennis tour.

Riggs dropped the first set 5-7 and lost the first two games of the second set before he steadied to win the second stanza 6-3 and the third 7-5.

Cage Coaches Say 'Y' Team Will Play Newburgh Jewels at 8 P. M.; Second Tilt at 9:15

The Gold Medal Basketball Tournament resumes action at the Y. M. C. A. boards tonight with another card of two games. At 8 o'clock the local "Y" varsity squad will engage the strong Newburgh Shaprio Jewels and at 9:15 o'clock Cossackie stacks up against the Margareville American Legion five.

One of the toughest games on the schedule is expected to result in the first clash at the 8 o'clock bell when Kingston and Newburgh collides. The Jewels defeated the locals early last January when the Newburgh club was represented in the Mid-Hudson loop.

Joe Blass, coach of the "Y" club, is confident declaring that his boys are in excellent shape for the big test tonight. The "Y" cagers will have Ed Weaver, big six-footer of the K. H. S. team and who was just named on the All-DUSO League team; Ray Lindhurst, Lin Hansen, Buddy Smith, Al Thomas, "Whitey" Myers, Jack Purvis, Jack Kelse, Frank Sass and Buddy Hughes.

The honor of the Windham Mountain area will be at stake in the 9:15 o'clock tussle when Margareville and Cossackie go at it. The Margareville quintet has the edge from former records but in tournament competition, the underdog always has an excellent chance of pulling a big upset.

G. Warren Kias Picked as Loop Coach by Scribes

Bob Murray, Bob Miller on Second Team; Davis, Wittman and Wolfson on First Strong Roster

Four Kingston High School players were named on the All-DUSO basketball team selected by the sportswriters of the league and edited by "Bo" Gill, sports editor of the Newburgh News. Eddie Weaver, center, and Tony Albany, forward, were selected for the first team while Bob Murray and Bob Miller were nominated for second team laurels.

Kias Is Coach

Coach G. Warren Kias of Kingston High was named All-DUSO coach by the scribes. Kias who has just capped his thirteenth basketball crown out of nineteen years in the business was the unanimous choice of all George "Lanky" Mortenson of Newburgh who brought Newburgh up from the cellar into the thick of the fight for the crown was chosen as second team coach.

The choice of Blair Davis, snappy Newburgh forward, as Albany's all-loop mate on the front comes as a surprise to DUSO experts. Most fans seemed to be inclined toward either Bob Murray of Kingston or Morty Kaplan of Monticello both of whom were picked on the second team. However, Davis got the nod of the writers and has proven to be a good pick.

The selection of four Kingston men on the first and second team marks the most places Kingston has copped in several years. The last time that a quartet from the Broadway school was chosen was in 1944 when Rod Sagendorf, George Zelle, Les Morton and Bob Sickler made the team.

Second for Albany

For Tony Albany, it is his second year on the squad as he was picked at one of the guard slots in last season's pool although he appeared in the Maroon lineup on the front line. Bobby Wittman of Middletown, who was chosen at guard this year also is in his second year as all-league being picked at the forward slot with Gus Koch of Kingston in 1945.

The big three of Kingston High, Weaver, Murray and Albany were well represented, and well they deserved to be since this trio ran up a total of 592 points throughout the year, 318 of which came in DUSO play. Bob Miller's steady play at guard got him a second team nomination.

Ziggy Wolfson, Middletown's veteran guard is also in his second year on the squad. He was chosen with Albany at the guard slots last season. Morty Kaplan of Monticello also received second team honors last year.

All teams were represented with at least one player except Port Jervis who wallowed in a miserable last place this season with a record of no wins against ten setbacks. Kingston's four places were tops followed by Middletown and Monticello with two each and Newburgh and Liberty with one apiece.

The selections:

Pos. Player School LF—Blair Davis Newburgh RF—Tony Albany Kingston C—Eddie Weaver Kingston LG—Bobby Wittman Middletown RG—Ziggy Wolfson Middletown

Second Team

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MARCH 22, 1946

NAMES SUGGESTED

With the arrival of the ferryboat Richmond to operate on the Kingston-Rhinecliff route, several suggestions have been made to change the name of the vessel.

Prominently mentioned are Governor George Clinton, first governor of the state, and Senator Arthur H. Wicks, through whose efforts the ferry service has become a reality.

Governor Clinton took the oath of office as governor of the state in the summer of 1777 in front of the old courthouse on Wall street. The present courthouse stands on the site.

The body of the state's first governor now lies buried in the yard of the historic old First Dutch Reformed Church.

Senator Wicks is one of the outstanding members of the State Legislature. During the years he has represented Ulster county and this Senatorial District, he has been active in advancing all worthy activities in the district.

No one will contest the fact that it is largely through the efforts of Senator Wicks that the bill providing for the building of a bridge between this city and Rhinecliff has been passed by the State Legislature, and is now before the governor for his signature.

Senator Wicks assured the people of Kingston and Ulster county that pending the building of a bridge, there would be ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

The ferry has been purchased and service will be resumed next month.

WRITE TO THE GOVERNOR

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce has started a drive in Kingston and Ulster County urging residents to send communications to Governor Thomas E. Dewey to sign the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Bill.

Residents of Ulster County as well as those of Rhinecliff and upper Dutchess County should act immediately to make known their desires to have this bridge erected as soon as possible. Write or wire your support now. A suggested type of letter was published in Thursday's issue of The Freeman.

On a matter of such tremendous importance to these regions, it would appear that the people who will be directly affected should need no exhorting. We should be eager to express our sentiments, and let the governor know how we feel about the bridge.

We are not deserving of securing the bridge, if we stand by with tongue-in-cheek waiting for the other fellow to do it.

It is claimed that the greater the volume of messages received in Albany and the more diversified the groups of individuals sending them, the better will be our chances.

Send in your letter to the governor today.

HOW BIG IS THE BOMB?

Little by little more information is coming out about the atomic bomb. For a long time most people had no idea as to its size. Its explosive powers have been so greatly emphasized that the actual size of the bomb seemed a minor matter. Such terrific force could wreak immense havoc even if encased in nothing larger than a tennis ball.

Now it appears that the bomb is much larger. Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, atom bomb chief, told a news conference that the B-29 Superfortress is the only known existing plane that can carry it.

For that matter, who would want to carry it?

The New York State Food Merchants' Association declares the black market in butter can be broken if butter production is stimulated by ceilings and allocations that make it profitable and necessary for the farmer to sell more of his butterfat for butter instead of diverting it to other dairy products. It is time something was done about the black market.

KING VETO

The majority vote implies that all those assembled for mutual agreement accept the theory of equality without the slightest regard to the fact of equality. In a word, the strong and the weak have one vote each, no more, no less. In the League of Nations, this proved an impediment to the strong who at one time found policy determined by such countries as Spain, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia, whereas responsibility for the enforcement of policy lay with Great Britain, France and the tacit support of the United States.

When the League faced the Manchurian and the Ethiopian issues, it was not the eloquence of Madariaga that mattered but the willingness of Great Britain and the United States to enforce the sanctions of the League. The United States was willing so far as Manchuria was concerned, but not Great Britain; therefore the League of Nations collapsed as an agency for the enforcement of peace and justice.

U.N.O. faces this same problem, but more acutely. Here the instrument of the veto is substituted for the majority vote. Either one of the great powers may, at its discretion and even in its own interests, exercise the veto to the detriment of world peace and justice. From its very first session, U.N.O. exists in the shadow of the veto.

Yet, if there is to be justice, the smallest country must be entitled to its day in court and the unfair and uncoerced judgment of the world. The case of Iran is really of no importance to the United States, which has no very vital interests in that country. But if Iran can be subjugated in time of peace and forced to accept an agreement against her will, or by threat of civil war, or by overt corruption of her officials, the U.N.O. has lost its first battle for existence.

The United States faced precisely that problem at the very beginning of its national life. A federation of loosely associated former colonies of Great Britain, tied together tenuously by the wish for national solidarity without loss of independent sovereignty, the states might have withheld the authority from the federal government essential for effective administration. The problem was to make the Constitution rather than the passing whims of individuals binding. John Marshall asserted, for the Supreme Court, the rights which established the American constitutional state.

Marbury vs. Madison was not over a great issue; it actually involved nothing more than a justice of the peace. Yet, Justice Marshall used this vehicle to assert high and binding national principle. He said:

"The government of the United States has been emphatically termed a government of laws, and not of men. It will certainly cease to deserve this high appellation if the laws furnish no remedy for the violation of a vested legal right."

Then he said:
"That the people have an original right to establish, for their future government, such principles as, in their opinion, shall most conduce to their own happiness is the basis on which the whole American fabric has been erected. The exercise of this original right is a very great exertion; nor can it, nor ought it, to be frequently repeated. The principles, therefore, so established, are deemed fundamental. And as the authority from which they proceed is supreme . . . they are designed to be permanent."

"This original and supreme will organizes the government, and assigns to different departments their respective powers. It may either stop here, or establish certain limits not to be transcended by those departments."

And finally:

"If the former part of the alternative be true, then a legislative act contrary to the constitution is not law; if the latter part be true, then written constitutions are absurd attempts . . ."

The Charter of U.N.O. is in the nature of a Constitution, by ordinary means unchangeable. It will live or die by the early precedents set for its action. King Veto remains supreme, the U.N.O. has no future. Its epitaph has already been written. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS

I was making a social visit on a newsboy boxer in a tuberculosis sanitarium when I noticed a former heavyweight boxer being placed in an adjoining bed. To my questioning look he simply stated: "I've been living carelessly, got a heavy cold, and am to remain here for a two years' rest. I think I can stick it out."

While rest is the biggest factor in resting a tuberculous lung, bed rest of months and years is not the routine treatment today. This is an answer to the question, "What is the present opinion on the use of bed rest in pulmonary tuberculosis?" The Journal of the American Medical Association makes answer:

"Bed rest is not used as much as formerly because other procedures have replaced it in many instances. Twenty-five years ago it was generally believed that every patient should have a period of bed rest to give Nature an opportunity to control the disease before any other procedure was followed."

Today, even in early cases, artificial pneumothorax is used. This is pumping air into the space between the lungs and the lining of the chest wall. Another method of resting the affected lung is cutting out a portion of the lung which prevents the ribs moving the lung and preventing rest.

(Of course, where there is infection (tuberculosis) in both lungs, bed rest, though a long process, is treatment given. Also there are cases where patients refuse any form of treatment that means operation of any kind even the insertion of the needle through which air is pumped in pneumothorax. In these cases that refuse operative treatment of any kind or in cases where both lungs are infected, or one lung more than the other, the patient is instructed to lie on the side of the diseased lung as long as possible each day. A small, hard pillow usually is placed beneath the ribs. The lung on the side on which the patient lies undergoes less movement than the opposite lung during breathing and so gets more rest. By raising foot of the bed the abdominal organs push up against floor of chest and give affected lung still more rest.)

Rest is still the big factor in curing tuberculosis but there are short cuts in obtaining it.

BABSON ON BUSINESS

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

BABSON DISCUSSES RUSSIA

Washington, D. C., March 22—Let us start with three statements with which most intelligent people agree:

1. Notwithstanding Churchill's blast, no group NOW wants a war with Russia. Surely the vote of the United States would be 100 per cent against it NOW, although we are better prepared for it NOW than we may ever be again.

2. Most of all, Russia does not want another war NOW. She knows that we saved her in World War I; and she knows she would lose all her gains with a World War II NOW.

3. Our State Department is so divided into Catholics, Protestants, New Dealers and Capitalists that it cannot agree upon any foreign policy NOW—say nothing of agreeing to fight Russia NOW.

Hence, there is no possibility of a war with Russia for an indefinite period.

Is War III Probable?

It is safe to say a fourth forecast, viz.:—If our present dilly-dally, contradictory, inconsistent and silly foreign policy continues long enough, we may have a war with Russia someday. Then, the U. S. and Britain will not be so well prepared as we are today; while Russia could then be very much stronger and in addition will have all atomic bomb secrets. Only a spiritual awakening of our State Department, or a split-up of Russia into two or more nations, can prevent such a conflict.

Conditions today are almost identical with those following World War I. Instead of a German Hitler, there can soon develop a Russian Hitler. Great Britain again has a Labor Government; France again is playing politics and talking pacifism; while U. S. mothers merely wanna get their dear boys home. World War 2 would have been unnecessary had it been "nipped in the bud." World War 3 can be prevented by the U. S. and Great Britain NOW joining on a fair, but firm, foreign policy, backed up by force.

What This Means to Business and Investors

Hence, businessmen and investors have nothing NOW to fear from Russia. For the past year, I have been forecasting a break in the stock market "due to a Russian scare." This recently occurred when stocks lost billions of dollars in a few days. Now this is probably over and we should go merrily along for awhile with better business and higher stock prices.

This present Russian scare should make Congress more willing to appropriate funds for national defense, cause it to help the British Empire and to encourage that Empire to do more for her Colonies. The best way to combat Communism is for Capitalism to insure a higher standard-of-living and greater security than does Communism. The new Atomic Energy may succeed in doing this.

I feel as President Truman and Mr. Churchill agreed at Fulton, Missouri, on March sixth: "These are perilous times. The world either is headed for destruction or for the greatest age of progress in history. If we are to have the latter, this is a time to hold good stocks; while if we are to witness destruction, then it will make no difference whether we have cash, stocks or government bonds."

Our people, unfortunately, are divided into either Isolationists or Non-Isolationists. One group thinks we should be content to put our own house in order before mixing up with the rest of the world. The other group goes to an opposite extreme and thinks that—through the United Nations Organization—we can NOW run the world and give every nation the Four Freedoms.

Both of the above groups are wrong. Either group could get us into trouble. President Truman should clean out our present State Department and substitute therefor a united Department with a middle-ground, but firm policy. This policy should be "Limited Internationalism." It should be free from politics, prejudice and philanthropy. It should have one aim; namely, to interfere only in those spots which are liable to get us into war if left to smolder.

Believe in the U.N.O.

I believe in the United Nations Organization and hope it will succeed, but democracy is too young a child to NOW depend upon it exclusively. But important Foreign Notes should be issued only when approved by Congress—in advance—coupled with a willingness to declare war if said Notes are ignored. Otherwise, we should mind our own business.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Repeal of the state's war emergency act, spelling the end of the War Council and its many regulations, is provided in a bill before Governor Dewey for his expected approval.

The Senate completed legislative action yesterday on the measure, abolishing the state's war laws April 1. Some wartime regulations including military leaves of absence for public officials, are retained in separate legislation.

Senate Republicans, meanwhile, back a Democratic attempt to halt Dewey's proposed transfer of the state's child care centers from War Council jurisdiction to the State Youth Commission.

Senator Arthur Wachtel, Bronx Democrat, asserted that Dewey had been "advised" in proposing the transfer, since the Youth Commission was "not prepared financially to assume the responsibility." The centers were created to provide daytime care for children of servicemen or working parents.

Minority members voted for the transfer, but then supported Wachtel in moving to force from committee for a vote a counter-proposal to keep the program in the War Council. Wachtel said he believed the legislature should pass both measures, leaving the decision to the Governor.

During the summer of 1926, a heated campaign for and against Sunday movies was waged in Kingston, and as a result of the campaign the Sunday movie referendum was defeated at the polls in November of that year by 198 votes.

There was a total of 10,974 votes cast that election of which 5,586 were opposed and 5,388 in favor of permitting the showing of movies in the city's theatres on a Sunday.

The question of permitting Sunday movies that year first came up in the Common Council when Alderman Leo Clark sponsored legislation to that effect, but the alderman after considering the question for some time, finally decided to submit the question to the voters for decision.

The adoption of a Sunday movie ordinance was strongly objected to by the churches of the city, as well as a number of organizations, while the fight to have such an ordinance adopted was waged principally by those who favored the proposition.

High Service Officials Might Do Well to Realize That

Unification of Forces Calls for Cooperation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 22—President Truman may urge and Congress may even some day legislate a merger of the armed services, but it will be a useless move unless some way is found to remove the bitterness which apparently is increasing as between the Army Air Forces and the U. S. Navy in certain important segments of personnel.

Naval circles have resented for some time the derogatory remarks made about the Navy by various Army Air Force generals in the field even during the war. These were reported to Washington from time to time. But the sensation now is the speech allegedly to have been made on the night of March 14th by General Spaatz, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, at a private dinner given by the Aviation Writers' Association.

General Spaatz is being quoted as having launched a tirade, against the Navy, questioning why the United States should have a Navy now. He is reported to have said that, since the Russians have little or no Navy and the Japanese Navy has been sunk and Germany never did have much of a Navy, the navies of the rest of the world are negligible. He is said to have remarked also that the Navy has no enemies to fight any more except the Army Air Forces.

General Spaatz is credited with having declared also that there was no need of a separate air force for the Navy and that air forces from carriers would be a waste of taxpayers' money. Some comments were reported to have been made by the general about the impossibility of launching atomic bombs from carriers. The Navy's technical men say the general is mistaken and that it is possible to build naval carriers which can operate the same weight planes as the B-29 and that atomic bombs can be dropped even now at great ranges from existing carriers.

But the main point is that someone ought to take these high officers and sit them down together in a room and teach them that this business of disparaging armed service isn't good from any viewpoint—not even from a practical side, for if unification is to be achieved at all it must be within a spirit of cooperation and not destructiveness.

The Army Air Forces have done a magnificent job. Nobody in his right mind has ever disparaged the marvelous work of the Air Forces from land bases, but can't the Army Air Force generals concede also that maybe Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet with its carriers did help to defeat Japan or that the Marines, which are a part of the Navy, did help to get the bases at Iwo Jima and Saipan and Guam from which the Army Air Forces launched their attacks including the atomic bombs?

There was glory enough for all in the last war, including the infantry and artillery—which services won many a mile of terrain in cloudy, snowy weather, when planes couldn't help them. If General Spaatz did make the remarks attributed to him, he owes an apology to the Navy, and nothing would be more conducive to the ultimate achievement of a unified armed service than if someone who had made a mistake apologized for it and admitted he might have been wrong.

General Spaatz is an able commander. He succeeds an exceptionally able commander, General Arnold. But if the new commander of the Army Air Forces said what is being attributed to him in the reports that are coming out about that Aviation Writers' Association dinner, he has made his own participation in future meetings of the U. S. Joint chiefs of staff of questionable value. A forthright denial that any such statement were made would be reassuring and if something like it was said, an explanation of what was really meant would be in order so as to restore harmony where today there is disunity among the high officers of our armed services. WAR MEMORIALS TO EXPOSE WAR CAUSES!

It's raining "war memorials" again; but a fitting memorial to the war, and to the men it killed and crippled, is the one thing too often omitted from the plans.

We're getting a little farther away from granite shafts and million-dollar marble palaces full of silk flags, bronze plaques and cement benches; but many of us who now suddenly condemn such extravagances as "useless" are losing sight of the "memorial" concept altogether, in our drift to the greater "utility" of a swimming pool, auditorium, stadium or skating rink.

The latter are no doubt pressing needs in some communities. No doubt they should have priority over the "useless" kind of memorial. But surely it will not be contended that they have any logical relationship to any aspect of war. Then why call it a World War 2 Memorial Skating Rink? Isn't a skating rink or a swimming pool too trivial and too carelessly inappropriate to the "hallow" the memories of thousands of men who can never skate or swim again? Will stadiums full of healthy Americans and auditoriums full of Shakespeare and Tchaikovsky summon to our minds the memory of our boys?

Maybe we'd better start searching our souls for the specific aspects of the war which we really want to memorialize in good conscience. Is it the war itself as a cataclysmic event—like a terrible cyclone? Then why not Cyclone Memorials? Is it the bare, tragic fact of death or disability for hundreds of thousands of fine men? Then why not monuments to the tragic victims of earthquakes and floods? Is it the mere heat down the desires of other nations? Then why not a nation full of memorials to our Olympic teams, foreign traders and international bankers?

Surely we can be guided in making our plans for new "war memorials" by worthy and less hedonistic motives than a mere desire to enhance our own immediate, physical pleasure. Only a shallow conscience and an empty ego can be soothed into believing that a half-million dollar World War 2 Memorial swimming pool or sports arena is dedicated more to the eternal memory of fallen G.I. than to years of exciting pleasure for our living selves.

By all means, let's have the pools and sportspalaces where needed and where they can be afforded—but free of the "war memorial" hypocrisy. Then we can get down to the serious business of establishing real war memorials—memorials which will keep us permanently reminded of the essential tragedy of war itself. There is nothing more needed by the living, or more deserved by the dead.

For what is it may be worth, here's a suggested form such a memorial might take:

For only $15,000 (only 3 per cent of the half-million-dollar memorial funds now being talked of in many American communities), the following things could be done annually by any one of all of:

Harmonica Virtuoso Displays Possibilities Of His Instrument

The audience at the concert in Kingston High School last night became acquainted or reacquainted with the possibilities of a harmonica although at times it was difficult to recognize the music of a mouth organ. Under the skill of John Sebastian, concert artist, the instrument came into its own on the concert stage. This was the second of the Community Concerts Inc. programs.

Many attended the concert purely through curiosity and that was satisfied after the first group of numbers, all classics of the 18th century composers. Mr. Sebastian opened the program with "Bourree" from "Second English Suite" by the program with "Bourree" by John Sebastian and was followed by the allegro and minuetto movements from "Sonata No. 4 in E Minor" by Mozart. Both served to show the adaptability of the instrument in playing the folk-dance tunes. Unusual tone quality resembling the various horns of the orchestra and the violin were created. The group closed with "Allegro" from "Concerto in A Minor" by Vivaldi-Nanciez.

Mr. Sebastian gave the informal comments often humorous about the music and also described the harmonica as resembling the pipe organ in as much as the same kind of metallic reeds and the same principle for making them vibrate are used. His harmonica has a range of four octaves beginning at C below middle C.

The "Roumanian Rhapsody No. 1" by Enesco was originally written for orchestra but Mr. Sebastian transcribed it most successfully for his instrument probably because of the many folk songs and dance rhythms. He also showed the similarity which might be made between the harmonica and Shepherd's pipes used in playing the rhapsody. The plaintive legato tone of the harmonica was demonstrated in the most impressionistic "Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy in which Mr. Sebastian believes the harmonica more closely resembles the Pipes of Pan than the flute used in the orchestration. In contrast Mr. Sebastian's next number, substituted for the Gypsy Dance from "Carmen", was one of his most recent transcriptions, the spirited "Ritual Fire Dance" by De Falla. The ensemble precision of Mr. Sebastian and his accompanist, Albert Malver, was notable in the perfect timing of the rapid passages.

Throughout the concert Mr. Malver proved himself a capable accompanist giving just enough background for the solo instrument. He also played Chopin's "Scherzo in B Flat Minor" and "Tango" by Turina and the familiar "Naila Waltz" of Delibes-Dohnanyi.

For the first section of his closing numbers, Mr. Sebastian played three dances from his own "Children's Suite." The first was a typical sailor's hornpipe with the melody repeated first on the bass, then middle and upper reeds and then reversed. In the second, "Moroccan Serenade" (minor, plaintive toned) he imitated three instruments which he had heard in French Morocco, the first two resembled a guitar and oboe and the third was of Turkish origin. In the dance of the Peruvian Incas the harmonica was played to resemble a flute like instrument made from the shin bone of an animal. Mr. Sebastian explained that in Peru and Chile the instrument is played with intervals for the echoes to resound. This style was used in the composition. For the Moroccan and Peruvian numbers Mr. Sebastian used special harmonicas tuned in a minor key.

The formal program was completed with two Gershwin numbers. His "Prelude No. 2, a soft, slow blues" number and excerpts from "Rhapsody in Blue."

For encores Mr. Sebastian played two pieces well adapted to the harmonica, "Hora Staccato", a Spanish dance by Dinecu and Leucana's "Malaguena."

The next and last concert in the Community Concerts Inc. Series for this season will be April 11 when Walter Cassel, baritone, will be the artist.

Vets Won't Believe It But Top Brass and Lowly G. I.'s Will Be Garbed in Identical Army Rags

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Officers' uniforms are on their way out of the Army.

By June 30, 1948, the highest colonels and the lowest privates will be garbed in identical fashion, except for insignia.

The War Department's order decreeing this comes at a time when criticism is still being heard from ex-servicemen about the so-called "officer caste system" and its privileges.

The first Capitol Hill comment was all for the change.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee told reporters "it looks like the Army is beginning to recognize the demand for more democratic military practices. This should encourage larger volunteer enlistments."

An ex-G.I., Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.) said: "It sounds good to me. I think it will help enlistments and will do away with some of the bad feeling that exists between officers and men."

There has been no hint yet that the Navy contemplates a similar move. That service is experimenting with modernizing the traditional seamen's uniform, with its bell-bottom trousers. And changes in officers' uniforms also are being studied. However, no final decisions have been reached in either case.

The War Department's decision was not considered radical by old Army men who pointed out that, except for insignia, there was no difference in uniforms worn by officers and enlisted men in World War I. They also cited the war between the states (Civil War) and noted that Gen. U. S. Grant seemed to prefer a private's fatigues blouse much of the time.

During the recent war and at the present time, enlisted men are issued an olive drab uniform, with an extra set of slacks of a lighter, mustard color. Officer's regulation uniforms are of forest green but may be worn with light grey, or "pink" slacks.

Under the new order, issued last night, all personnel will wear battle jackets and trousers of the same olive drab shade now used in enlisted men's clothing. For summer and tropical wear, the duty uniform for all ranks will continue to be the familiar khaki, with the addition of a battle jacket in tropical climates.

The new regulations were accompanied with a promise of the eventual return of blue dress uniforms to the Army for special occasions, but the announcement said that the clothing shortage might prevent their restoration by mid-1948.

The War Department indicated that adoption of a common uniform would mean no change in officer insignia. It failed to say, however, what would happen to the distinguishing stripe of braid on officers' blouses, or the hat braid which currently distinguishes their headgear from enlisted men's.

And it made no mention of generals who are privileged under existing regulations to prescribe their own uniforms.

Russians Have New War But This Time Against Grasshoppers

Moscow, March 22 (AP)—A Soviet expedition organized by the Ministry of Agriculture and the Russian civil aircraft takes off today to combat grasshoppers in 148,000 acres of Northern Iran.

The newspaper Evening Moscow said in an interview with I. I. Sazonov, chief of a special section of the aircraft, that the Iranian government has requested Russia to fight the grasshoppers from the air. Sazonov was quoted as saying the work would be finished by June 1.

The grasshoppers were said to be destroying enormous plots of planted fields, including cotton plantations in southern Azerbaijan.

The chief of the special department of the Soviet Civil Air Fleet selected a detachment of light planes known as "AP" for the work. The planes were equipped with a special apparatus for gassing the hoppers and were piloted by fliers expert in the work.

The interview said the Russians had been carrying on this battle against grasshoppers in Iran for "many years" but this years work was distinctive since the fight was to begin before the insects sprout wings.

Union Drive on City Wages

Metal Trades Council Kingston, N. Y.

American Federation of Labor 277 Fair Street Kingston, N. Y.

March 22, 1946

Editor, The Freeman:

The City of Kingston, through its Common Council and at the request of the Mayor has approved a $95,000.00 bond issue for the rebuilding of certain city streets. This appropriation, finally approved by the Common Council, is based upon figures submitted by the administration. The request for the funds stressed the increased cost of material to be used but nowhere in the request was an item showing the estimated cost of labor.

Last year the administration stated that high war time wages made it impossible to secure labor to repair the streets. The inference was plain. They hoped that wage rates could be reduced in order to decrease the repair charges. It is now evident that such thinking was merely wishful thinking.

A check of city officials today indicates that no thought has been given to the wage rates that are to be paid for the required labor. One official stated that the rates would probably be comparable to the ones paid to regular city employees otherwise it would be difficult to maintain harmony among the employees. How the administration expects to maintain harmony on a starvation wage rate of 53 cents per hour is beyond comprehension.

The Union is initiating a campaign to let the general public know what city officials are responsible for the present inadequate wage rates. It is apparent that the administration will attempt to take advantage of the

Rendezvous With Mercy

Covington, Tenn., March 22 (AP)—The Illinois Central's fast Chickasaw Limited ground to an unscheduled stop at a muddy crossroads near here at minute after last midnight.

There it took on a prized passenger—14-year-old, crippled little Minnie Rose Webb, off to St. Louis on her greatest adventure.

Minnie Rose was on her way to the Shrine Hospital for crippled children to see if doctors there can make her walk like her playmates.

A crowd of Shriners, newsmen and photographers furnished the brown-haired, thin-faced girl plenty of company as she waited by the lonely road for the passenger train.

Fatigued by a day of excitement that included hurried preparations, picture-taking and radio broadcasts, Minnie Rose was nodding in her wheel chair when she was lifted to the platform and rolled to the special, flower-bedecked drawing room that had been arranged for her.

Magnificent Farewell

She waved good-bye to her tearful family as the train pulled out after a nine-minute delay.

The trip to St. Louis for medical treatment was the climax to a story book tale that had its beginning almost a year ago.

Minnie Rose sat on the front porch of her ramshackle farm home waving at all trains that went by. A conductor stopped his train in front of her house one day and got acquainted. He found out that she was crippled.

The word was passed down the I. C. line. She became the railroad's mascot and seldom a day went past that some of the crewmen didn't throw her dolls, candy or toys. They even bought her the wheelchair.

Then the railroad men and Shriners decided to send the girl to St. Louis for treatment. Arrangements were made for last night's midnight rendezvous with

Metal Trades Council Kingston, N. Y.

American Federation of Labor 277 Fair Street Kingston, N. Y.

March 22, 1946

Editor, The Freeman:

The City of Kingston, through its Common Council and at the request of the Mayor has approved a $95,000.00 bond issue for the rebuilding of certain city streets. This appropriation, finally approved by the Common Council, is based upon figures submitted by the administration. The request for the funds stressed the increased cost of material to be used but nowhere in the request was an item showing the estimated cost of labor.

Last year the administration stated that high war time wages made it impossible to secure labor to repair the streets. The inference was plain. They hoped that wage rates could be reduced in order to decrease the repair charges. It is now evident that such thinking was merely wishful thinking.

A check of city officials today indicates that no thought has been given to the wage rates that are to be paid for the required labor. One official stated that the rates would probably be comparable to the ones paid to regular city employees otherwise it would be difficult to maintain harmony among the employees. How the administration expects to maintain harmony on a starvation wage rate of 53 cents per hour is beyond comprehension.

The Union is initiating a campaign to let the general public know what city officials are responsible for the present inadequate wage rates. It is apparent that the administration will attempt to take advantage of the

Violence Flares Up In Stamford Strike; 22 Are Arrested

Stamford, Conn., March 22 (AP)—Pickets and police clashed today before the strike-bound Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company plant resulting in the largest number of arrests since the outbreak of the strike on November 7.

Most of the trouble occurred at the main factory gate where, police said, scores of pickets formed a solid human blockade in attempts to keep management officials from entering the plant.

The disturbance, observers reported, was chiefly confined to pushing, shoving and kicking.

Police headquarters reported that three van loads of pickets had been brought in from the picket lines. The initial group of per-

Moscow, March 22 (AP)—Frank Roberts, British charge d'affaires, visited the Soviet Foreign Ministry for 90 minutes last night in the first of a diplomatic reception at the Afghan Embassy. There was much speculation among Roberts' foreign colleagues, but no official explanation of the visit.

Legislative Roundup

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Republican legislative ranks split wide open today over the political hot St. Lawrence seaway issue and the break indicated Assembly approval of a Democratic resolution condemning the proposed project.

Although Governor Dewey has repeatedly endorsed the deep waterway development, a considerable number of Republican legislators are bitterly opposed to it and are expected to line up with the Democrats in the showdown vote in the Assembly Tuesday.

Associates of the Governor concede that Republican opposition to his position likely would be used by the Democrats in an effort to embarrass him in the gubernatorial election campaign next fall. But they insist Dewey is ready to meet the St. Lawrence issue head-on against U. S. Senator James M. Mead or any other candidate nominated by the Democrats for Governor.

Mead is one of the nation's foremost opponents of the seaway development.

The floor fight in the larger house was started last night when the Republican-controlled Assembly rules committee reported out the Quinn resolution asking Congress to reject legislation for development of the seaway.

Assemblyman John P. Quinn, Buffalo Democrat and sponsor of the resolution, amended it yesterday to include a declaration in favor of developing the power resources of the river.

That is exactly Mead's position and now that of the Democrats in this state. Advocates of the project insist it would not be practicable to develop power without constructing the seaway, and vice versa.

The Democrats are counting

chiefly on the support of the Republican Assemblymen from the port cities of New York and Buffalo.

Meanwhile the Senate received Assembly-approved bills implementing Dewey's $14,000,000 public health program providing for state aid to local health departments and intensification of the fight against tuberculosis.

Legislative action was postponed until Monday on proposed constitutional amendments lengthening the term of state Senators from two to four years and prohibiting a political party from nominating any candidate not enrolled in the party. The latter proposal would have the effect of preventing nominees of the major parties from running also on minority tickets.

Kiwanis Club Sees Technicolor Films Of Mexico City

Technicolor films showing scenes in the city of Mexico, and in Tehuacan, occupied the program hour at Kiwanis Thursday noon and proved to be highly interesting.

There were views of prominent buildings and street scenes, the market place with the Mexican girls in colorful dress selling produce and wares of various kinds, or bringing their wares to market, stepping briskly along with the large baskets balanced upon their heads, a Mexican wedding scene, street parades, etc.

At Tehuacan, views of the ancient mounds and temples, with their ornate decorations, statues and symbols, which Mexican and other scientists have long been working at to unravel their secrets.

The pictures were shown through the courtesy of Herbert Greenwood of the Greenwood Travel Agency.

Lieut. Governor of the Second Division, Edward M. Hubert, expressed his gratification at the honor paid to him Tuesday evening when the Putnam county club celebrated lieutenant governor's night at Mahopac. All Kiwanis clubs in the Second Division were well represented—Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Beacon, Middletown, Port Jervis, Putnam county—and also there was a delegation from the Peekskill club. There were 11 present from Kingston. Among those attending were two past governors and seven past lieutenant governors. Paul A. Zurek was the sole leader for the occasion and was reported to have been in fine fettle.

A resolution, passed by Governor Dewey to sign the bill providing for a bridge over the Hudson at Kingston was passed unanimously after having been signed by individual members of the club.

Next Thursday members of the Putnam county club will entertain the Kingston club at Mahopac. The club will be held for members of the Putnam county club at the Mahopac Hotel. The club will be held for members of the Putnam county club at the Mahopac Hotel. The club will be held for members of the Putnam county club at the Mahopac Hotel.

Canadians Guard Prize Witness

Key Figure in A-Bomb Spy Disclosure Is Placed Under Custody

Montreal, March 22 (AP)—Canadian police took elaborate precautions today to protect Igor Gouzenko on his appearance as a star witness at the preliminary hearing of Fred Rose, Communist member of Parliament accused of relaying secret scientific data to Soviet agents.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police officials said Gouzenko, former cipher clerk in the Russian Embassy who is credited with tipping Canadian officials to alleged Russian espionage activities, had expressed fears for his life.

They added that "sensational" testimony was expected from Gouzenko, who has been under constant guard since he turned over to the government last fall documents he said he took from files in the Soviet Embassy.

Police emphasized that the precautions taken to safeguard Gouzenko did not necessarily reflect on any of those accused in the spy case "or on any country."

The preliminary hearing in Rose's case is expected to take several days. It will be followed by a hearing in the case of Dr. Ray-

OFFICE CAT

A Starter:
It's a good thing to remember
An equally good thing to
To work with the construction gang.
And not with the wrecking crew.
—Ralph G. Abrahams

Woman (specially inclined)—My dear, I have picked out a husband for you.
Daughter (graciously)—Very well, but I'm feeling quite emphatically that when it comes to getting the wedding dress, I shall insist upon picking it out.

A Hint to Bathing Suit Makers:

Two G.I.s on a day off were
strolling along a suburban road,
just outside London, when they saw a building with a sign over
the archway in front: "HALL OF REMEMBRANCE," the British phrase for crematorium. With the usual G.I. curiosity, one of them
went in to see what it was.

A few moments later he came
rushing out as though the devil himself were pursuing him. To the other G.I.'s question as to why
the haste, the investigator replied:
"G.I.—Darned if I know. I walked in and there were a lot of people dressed in black, standing
around a pit from which flames
seemed to be coming. Some of them were crying. All I said before
I got thrown out, was: "Hi, ya,
folks! What's cooking?"

Three small boys were bragging about their dads:
First Boy—My dad writes a few lines on a paper, calls it a poem, sends it away in the mail and gets $10 back for it.
Second Boy—My dad makes some dolls in a piece of paper,

Third Boy—That's nothing. My father writes out a sermon on a

men to bring in the money.

A boy in long pants got on a bus

Judge Sharp—Didn't it make you nervous when the attorney kept pacing up and down in front of the jury box?
Pretty Defendant—Yes, he was cutting off the jurors view of my

The crown of all faculties is common sense. It is not enough to do the right thing, it must be done at the right time and place. Talent knows what to do; tact knows when and how to do it.

Just about the time you think

Sergeant—Why is it important not to lose your head during an at-

Recruit—Because that would leave no place to put your helmet.

Get the Habit
Baltimore (AP)—Baltimore County
Treasurer William J. Foley classifies all taxpayers into (a) those who pay, (b) those who don't pay, and—believe it or not—

(c) those who pay twice. He says those in class (c) aren't motivated by an unusual feeling of generosity toward the county government; they "just want to be honest men."
They have borrowed from building and home loan organizations—which pay the taxes in lump sum—and they file their own returns even though they don't receive tax bills.

Reporters Have Wings
London, Ontario (AP)—The Lon-experience.

Parent's Night
Last Wednesday night was parent's night at the Practice School here. The informal program was arranged by Dr. W. Haggerty, president of the college, and it was enjoyed by 150 mothers and fathers of the children attending school.

When the parents began to arrive at 7 o'clock every room in the building was lighted and teachers began to talk over with the parents the individual work of the children. At 8 o'clock a quartet of college students rendered a short musical program for string instruments.

Dr. Haggerty opened the meeting by pointing out that education is concerned with the whole child, not just his progress in ability to read. In view of this, the speaker said that parents and teachers are much more concerned with the same problems and should meet together to further the welfare of the children. He told of the selection of New Paltz as the first teacher's college in the state to begin the development of a new kindergarten program.

Dr. Haggerty mentioned the creation next September of a three-year-old group and predicted that there might "be a two-year old group someday at least for observation purposes. He also stated that the new teacher provided for the school of practice by the action of the school board last summer were engaged and would begin work in September.
The speaker also announced that with the approval of the Board of Regents and the Office of the Director of the Budget now awaiting the signature of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the provision for a new position as principal of the school of practice, is included in this year's budget.

This will mean that E. H. Matteson who has filled the position along with duties as director of training and placement officer, will be freed from the direct administration of the School of Practice and will be able to devote his entire time to the development and improvement of the student teacher training program.
In conclusion, Dr. Haggerty again stressed the need for close parent-teacher cooperation.

Following Dr. Haggerty's address, Benjamin I. Matteson took charge of the meeting and he took up with the parents several items in the petty irritating concerns that inevitably beset the day busy parent, and explained the school feels it is necessary to make certain requests of parents.

Mr. Matteson then introduced Bertha Bennett of the physical education department. After referring to the splendid work of Gordon Pine, Thomas di Lorenzo and Mrs. D. Kite of the community recreation committee, Matteson
Bennett sketched the program now in operation which is so extensive that on several nights of the week the facilities of the high school, the college and School of
Practice are all being used.
Miss Wolcott, the new school nurse, spoke briefly stressing the need of close cooperation between the home and school in matters pertaining to health and interesting talk along this line was given by Mrs. Irene Commey, chairman of the Health Welfare Committee. She reported on some of the aims and activities of her committee. A brief but interesting discussion followed after which all adjourned to the cafeteria for refreshments. It was voted that another such meeting be held during the week the facilities of the high school, the college and School of
Practice are all being used.

Bronx-Home of Famous Cheer and Yankees Is Now Capital of World

New York, March 22 (AP)—The Bronx, home of the New York Yankees, five colleges and the Bronx cheer, becomes the capital of the world on Monday.

After one of the fastest conversions jobs in building history, Hunter College quarters are ready for the opening sessions of the United Nations powerful Security Council. The buildings were altered and outfitted in two weeks; contractors said it was "normally a six-month job."

The world organization has taken over three buildings, the gymnasium, housing the main meeting room and principal conference rooms, Davis Hall for offices and Student's Hall for its spacious cafeteria.

The main room, done in old rose, buff and soft tans, is a scene of solemn luxury. Thick rugs and 3,500 yards of sailcloth drapes enrich the interior. The 72-foot maple council table, U-shaped, is centered off the south wall with a table for recorders and stenographers directly in front.

Facing the dias is a graduated floor with 20-inch plush-covered seats for official observers. All speeches will be over a public address system.

Elevated, glass-enclosed booths along two walls will care for broadcasting and television. Press galleries flank the room on the other two sides. Two smaller gyms have been converted into a private conference room for the Council and a lounge with a 20-foot mahogany bar.

Press Accommodated
Considerable space has been given over to the press, including the swimming pool now covered to form the principal news room.

Batteries of telephones line the corridors and thousands of feet of telegraph wires have been strung to carry the stories of hundreds of newspapermen.

One New York City bank has set up a branch in Davis Hall.

Double signs on doors—English and French are the official languages—lend an international air to the corridors where once strolled Hunter's co-eds.

Outside are spacious grounds and diversified scenery. On one side the waters of a reservoir lap lazily at the campus edge while on the other runs a noisy elevated line.

The Bronx is proud of its cultural aspects and brags of having Fordham University, New York University, Manhattan College, the Salvation Army College and Hunter within its borders.

This northern borough of the world's largest city, principally an apartment house area, has 1,800,000 inhabitants.

Few, if any Bronxites, however, will attend Council sessions. Only 45 tickets for the public will be available daily because of limited space.

Huge Fire Sweeps Pittsburgh Area

Three Blocks Ravaged in Golden Triangle; Damage Estimate at $700,000

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—Fire swept with explosive fury through a three block area in downtown Pittsburgh early today, destroying a dozen food and supply buildings and doing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000.

Fourteen firemen were hurt by falling debris and toppling walls and 40 freight carloads of butter, lard, sugar, paint, coal and other products were burned.

The fire was described by firemen as the worst the city has experienced in 30 years.

Flames were controlled at 4 a. m., but 22 lines of hose still spouted millions of gallons of water into the buildings to quench smoldering flames.

The fire leaped from building to building in the three block area from First to Fourth avenue, in the lower tip of the Golden Triangle.

A system of inter-locking trestles on the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway, two and three story supply buildings and one-story distributing houses were fire swept.

City Police Supt. Harvey Scott summoned members of his bomb and arson squad to inspect the ruins in search for cause of the fire.

Several explosions occurred. Firemen attributed these to grease and to a number of mercury tanks stored in one of the buildings.

Fire Chief William Davis estimated the damage at $500,000 but some business men whose property was lost said losses would approach $700,000.

The Hudson Valley Bowling League title has come to Kingston for the first time since the organization of the loop. Interment services for the Newburgh Finnegans were conducted last night before a large gathering at the Regency on the 5 and 6. The Finnegans needed three games and came away with three. They were tight and pressing, while the thoroughly reformed Dairymen poured it on to top three.

Van Kleeck's will go down as one of the most amazing teams in the city's history. The fact that they captured Kingston's only valley title will forever remain a tribute to their gallant resourcefulness. They won every time they had to. They all you can ask of any champion.

It was no clown outfit that was buried in the 5 and 6 planks last night. The Finnegans represent the cream of the Newburgh crop, but they just didn't have it in Kingston this year. They dropped eight out of nine to Kingston squads. You have to go back a long time to recall anything equalling that performance. Had they split even on local drives it would have been a much closer race.

Tony Mack looked pretty sour last night and the whole Finnegans squad struggled to solve the mystery of alley 5. If the Newburghers had come to Kingston with intentions of arranging a duel between Ferraro and Mack, they forgot it quickly. Not even a feeler was passed out.

It was a big night for The Ace.

VanKleeck Keglers Champs of Valley; Jones Wins Three

Dairymen Blast Hopes of Finnegans Behind Ferraro and Broskie Thursday Night

A helping hand was extended to the Van Kleeck keggers last night by Ad Jones and his teammates at the Central Recreation alleys when the dairymen blasted all hopes of the Newburgh Finnegans by winning three straight games. The triple setback for the Hilly City keggers allowed the Van Kleeck team to back into the championship of the Hudson Valley League. Vans now have a five game lead with only three more left to play. The league will wind up its schedule this week-end.

It was the Jones' all the way Thursday night. Heavy scores by Johnny Ferraro, Harold Broskie, Ad Jones, Charlie Tiano and George Flemings sent Jones to a 2861 team triple and individual games of 956, 925 and 980. Newburgh's biggest bid for victory came in the final game when they rolled up a 968 score.

Ferraro was the big gun for the dairymen with his high series of 629 on scores of 227, 211 and 191. Broskie followed the sharper with 182, 215 and 210 for a cool 607. T. Jones of Newburgh sparked his club with a 577.

Better Bowling By Billy Sixty

Step or Slide? The question of whether to step or slide to the foul line in completing the bowling stride, whether using three, four or five steps, confuses a Philadelphia beginner.

Footwork is referred to as "steps taken," but actually, to clarify the point, the final "step" is a slide.

Only by getting the left foot well ahead, either by sliding on it or with a long finishing step in the case of an exceptionally tall bowler, is it possible to have body balance for a smooth delivery at the foul line. The accompanying illustration shows perfectly the slide action of the left foot, which effects a centered balance of the body on both legs—the left arm extends or stretched out for added balance.

The final step slide should come natural. The weight is on the ball of the foot at first and as the slide is completed or checked, the heel contacts the floor. The right foot drags along loosely while the weight is riding on the left leg—then checks or "brakes" abruptly as the left heel stops the slide.

There must be a feeling of total body relaxation when the final step (slide) is reached. No tense-ness whatever. At that point the body is dropped low in a natural crouched position caused by the weight of the swinging ball. The left knee is bent, so that the ball, swinging low, follows a line slightly below the level of the knees. (Copyright, 1946, by John F. Dille Co.)

Florida City Bars Montreal Negroes From Game Sunday

Jacksonville, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Jackie Robinson and John Wright, negro players for Montreal in the International League, will be prohibited from participating in an exhibition game with Jersey City here Sunday by a regulation of the Jacksonville Play ground and Recreation Board.

George Robinson, executive secretary for the board, said last night that "rules, regulations and policies of the Jacksonville Play ground and Recreation Board prohibit mixed contestants in athletic events on their facilities."

"This means," that board secretary explained, "that white and negro athletes can not play together and would serve to bar any negro player from the game here Sunday."

The city official said the Montreal Club could bring second baseman Robinson or any other negro player it wished to Jacksonville but that no negro player would be permitted to play.

The city regulation has been in effect for years, the Recreation Department secretary said.

Larkin Is Favored

New York, March 22 (AP)—Tippie Larkin, Garfield, N. J., welterweight, again is favored to defeat Nick Moran of Mexico City when they meet tonight in a return 16-round bout at Madison Square Garden. Larkin won a close decision in their first meeting last November 16.

Honored by DUSO League Scribes

TONY ALBANY

Tony Albany, crack forward of Kingston High School, and lanky Ed Weaver, have been named on the 1945-46 All-DUSO basketball team by sportswriters from Kingston, Newburgh, Middletown and Fort Jervis. Albany and Weaver, the Maroon's two high scorers, carried the main attack of the team all year. Another selection by DUSO League writers was that of G. Warren Kias as the coach of the year. Other choices on the No. 1 team were Bobby Wittman and Seymour "Ziggy" Wolfson of Middletown and Blair Davis of Newburgh. Bob Murray and Bob Miller of Kingston were nominated for the second string team. (Freeman Photos.)

G. Warren Kias Picked as Loop Coach by Scribes

Bob Murray, Bob Miller on Second Team; Davis, Wittman and Wolfson on First Strong Roster

Four Kingston High School players were named on the All-DUSO basketball team, selected by the sportswriters of the league and edited by "Bo" Gill, sports editor of the Newburgh News. Eddie Weaver, center, and Tony Albany, forward, were selected for the first team while Bob Murray and Bob Miller were nominated for second team laurels.

Kias Is Coach

Coach G. Warren Kias of Kingston High was named All-DUSO coach by the scribes. Kias who has just capped his thirteenth basketball crown out of nineteen years in the business was the unanimous choice of all. George "Lanky" Masterson of Newburgh who brought Newburgh up from the cellar into the thick of the fight for the crown was chosen as second team coach.

The choice of Blair Davis, snappy Newburgh forward, as Albany's all-loop mate on the front line comes as a surprise to DUSO experts. Most fans seemed to be inclined toward either Bob Murray of Kingston or Morty Kaplan of Monticello both of whom were picked on the second team. However, Davis got the nod of the writers and has proven to be a good pick.

The selection of four Kingston men on the first and second team marks the most places Kingston has topped in several years. The last time that a quartet from the Broadway school was chosen was in 1944 when Rod Sagendorf, George Zelle, Les Morton and Bob Slicker made the team.

Second for Albany

For Tony Albany, it is his second year on the squad as he was picked at one of the guard slots in last season's poll although he appeared in the Maroon lineup on the front line, Bobby Wittman of Middletown, who was chosen at guard this year also is in his second year as all-league being picked at the forward slot with Gus Koch of Kingston in 1945.

The big three of Kingston High, Weaver, Murray and Albany was well represented, and well they deserved to be since this trio ran up a total of 592 points throughout the year, 318 of which came in DUSO play. Bob Miller's steady play at guard got him a second team nomination.

Ziggy Wolfson, Middletown's veteran guard is also in his second year on the squad. He was chosen as a forward at the guard slots last season. Morty Kaplan of Monticello also received second team honors last year.

All teams were represented with at least one player except Fort Jervis who walked in a miserable last place this season with a record of no wins as against ten setbacks. Kingston's four places were tops followed by Middletown and Monticello with two each and Newburgh and Liberty with one apiece.

Legislature Okays Ski Trail on Belleayre

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment permitting construction of ski trails in three counties has the approval of the legislature today.

The measure, however, must be passed by next year's legislature and approved by the people before becoming effective.

The proposal, previously passed by the Senate, won Assembly approval by a 115-5 vote yesterday.

It would permit the state to build not more than 20 miles of trails, 30 to 80 feet wide, on Belleayre Mountain in Ulster and Delaware counties, and up to 30 miles of trails on Gore, South and Pete Gay Mountains in Warren county.

Tarheels Triumph Over N.Y.U. 57-49

In Gotham Tourney

New York, March 22 (AP)—New York University, once regarded as the outstanding basketball team in the country, has failed in its bid to retain its Eastern N.C.A.A. Basketball Championship.

The Violets, pre-game favorites, took a 57 to 49 pasting from North Carolina in the semi-finals at Madison Square Garden last night before 18,452. North Carolina thus demonstrated its early season 43-41 victory over the New Yorkers was no fluke.

Sparked by John "Hook" Dillon, who flipped in 15 points, the White Phantoms pulled away to an early 20-10 lead and dominated the game throughout, staving off a late N.Y.U. bid when the Violets got within five points at 36-31.

North Carolina thus won the right to meet Ohio State, Big Ten champions, for the eastern crown on Saturday night.

The Buckeyes, who lost to N.Y.U. in last year's eastern final, defeated Harvard, 46 to 38, in the other semi-final clash.

Riggs Wins in Troy

Troy, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Bobby Riggs recovered from a first set loss last night to score his sixth successive victory over Don Budge on the pair's cross country exhibition professional tennis tour.

Riggs dropped the first set 5-7 and lost the first two games of the second set before he straddled to win the second stanza 6-3 and the third 7-5.

Cage Coaches Say Sport Will Keep Mounting Yearly

Extensive Use by G.I.'s One of Main Reasons for Popularity; Increase in Fans

New York, March 22 (AP)—In the history of basketball, it is going to keep right on mounting as the result of the game's extensive use by the armed forces for both recreation and training purposes, the country's coaches believe.

This was apparent today as the annual convention of the National Association of Basketball Coaches moved into its second day with a large number of cage mentors from all sections of the nation on hand, many of them back from military assignments.

New Stars Developed

"I think there will be a tremendous increase in spectator interest in basketball as the result of its use in the service athletic program," said Blair Gullion of the University of Connecticut, former Cornell coach who served as athletic director for the Army Air Forces' Technical Training Command.

Gullion said a great many top-notch players were developed while in the service and that this will result in a noticeable improvement in the game.

Among coaches who served as athletic officers or civilian consultants in combat or occupation zones it was agreed that basketball was the most popular sport played by servicemen.

Saturday's Games

Saturday night two more contests are scheduled for the Y. M. C. A. court. The Kingston Ramblers will meet the Newburgh Caravan Clippers, victors over the strong Kerhonkson Farmer combine. In the other test, the Kingston American Legion will engage the Cairo American Legion five.

Doors will be opened at 7:30 o'clock tonight and Saturday and "Y" officials anticipate a big turnout. Extra seating has been arranged for the tournament games, Lou Shafer announces.

'Y' Team Will Play Newburgh Jewels at 8 P. M.; Second Tilt at 9:15

The Gold Medal Basketball Tournament resumes action at the Y. M. C. A. boards tonight with another card of two games. At 8 o'clock the local "Y" varsity squad will engage the strong Newburgh Shapiro Jewels and at 9:15 o'clock Cocksackie stacks up against the Margaretville American Legion five.

One of the toughest games on the schedule is expected to result in the first clash at the 8 o'clock bell when Kingston and Newburgh collides. The Jewels defeated the locals early last January when the Newburgh club was represented in the Mid-Hudson league. Joe Bass, coach of the "Y" club, is confident declaring that his boys are in excellent shape for the best test tonight. The "Y" cagers will have Ed Weaver, big six-footer of the K. H. S. team and who was just named on the ALL-DUSO League team; Ray Lindhurst, L. Hansen, Buddy Smith, Al Thomas, "Whitey" Myers, Jack Purvis, Jack Kelsie, Frank Sack and Buddy Hughes.

The honor of the Windham Mountain area will be at stake in the 9:15 o'clock tussle when Margaretville and Cocksackie go at it. The Margaretville quintet has the edge from former records but in tournament competition, the underdog always has an excellent chance of pulling a big upset.

Harmonica Virtuoso
Displays Possibilities
Of His Instrument

The audience at the concert in Kingston High School last night became acquainted or reacquainted with the possibilities of a harmonica although at times it was difficult to recognize the music of John Sebastian, concert artist, the instrument came into its own on the concert stage. This was the second of the Community Concerts Inc. programs.

Many attended the concert purely for curiosity and that was satisfied after the first group of numbers, all classics of the 18th century composers. Mr. Sebastian opened the program with "Bourree" from "Second English Suite" by the program with "Bourree" from "Second English Suite" by John Sebastian Bach, and was followed by the allegro and minuetto movements from "Sonata No. 4 in E Minor" by Mozart. Both served to show the adaptability of the instrument in playing the folk-dance tunes. Unusual tone quality resembling the various horns of the orchestra and the violin were created. The group closed with "Allegro" from "Concerto in A Minor" by Vivaldi-Nanchez.

Mr. Sebastian gave the informal comments often humorous about the music and also described the harmonica as resembling the pipe organ in as much as the same kind of metallic reeds and the same principle for making them vibrate are used. His harmonica has a range of four octaves beginning at C below middle C.

The "Roumanian Rhapsody No. 1" by Liszt was originally written for orchestra but Mr. Sebastian transcribed it most successfully for his instrument probably because of the many folk songs and dance rhythms. He also showed the similarity which might be made between the harmonica and Shepherd's pipes used in playing the rhapsody. The plaintive legato tone of the harmonica was demonstrated in the most impressionistic "Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy in which Mr. Sebastian believes the harmonica more closely resembles the Pipes of Pan than the flute used in the orchestration. In contrast Mr. Sebastian's next number, substituted for the Gypsy Dance from "Carmen", was one of his most recent transcriptions, the spirited "Ritual Fire Dance" by Lerzalla. The ensemble precision of Mr. Sebastian and his accompanist Albert Malver, was notable in the perfect timing of the rapid passages.

Throughout the concert Mr. Malver proved himself a capable accompanist giving just enough background for the solo instrument. He also played Chopin's "Scherzo in B Flat Minor" a "Tango" by Turina and the familiar "Naila Waltz" of Delibes-Dohnanyi.

For the first section of his closing numbers, Mr. Sebastian played three dances from his own "Children's Suite." The first was a typical sailor's hornpipe with the melody repeated first on the bass, then middle and upper reeds and then reversed. In the second, "Moroccan Serenade" (minor, plaintive toned) he imitated three instruments which he had heard in French Morocco. The first two resembled a guitar and oboe and the third was of Turkish origin. In the dance of the Peruvian Incas the harmonica was played to resemble a flute like instrument made from the shin bone of an animal. Mr. Sebastian explained that in Peru and Chile the instrument is played with intervals for the echoes to resound. This style was used in the composition. For the Moroccan and Peruvian numbers Mr. Sebastian used special harmonicas tuned in a minor key.

The formal program was completed with two Gershwin numbers. His "Prelude No. 2, a soft, slow blues" number and excerpts from "Rhapsody in Blue."

For encores Mr. Sebastian played two pieces well adapted to the harmonica, "Hora Staccato," a Spanish dance by Dancu and Leucos's "Malaguena."

The next and last concert in the Community Concerts Inc. Series for this season will be April 1 when Walter Cassel, baritone, will be the artist.

Bronx-Home of Famous Cheer and Yankees Is Now Capital of World

New York, March 22 (AP)—The Bronx, home of the New York Yankees, five colleges and the Bronx cheer, becomes the capital of the world on Monday.

After one of the fastest conversions jobs in building history, Hunter College quarters are ready for the opening sessions of the United Nations powerful Security Council. The buildings were altered and outfitted in two weeks; contractors said it was "normally a six-month job."

The world organization has taken over three buildings, the gymnasium, housing the main meeting room and principal conference rooms. Davis Hall for offices and Student's Hall for its spacious cafeteria.

The main room, done in old rose, buff and soft tans, is a scene of solemn luxury. Thick rugs and 3,500 yards of sailcloth drapes enclose the interior. The 72-foot maple council table, U-shaped, is centered off the south wall with a table for recorders and stenographers directly in front.

Facing the dias is a graduated floor with 200 plush-covered seats for official observers. All speeches will be over a public address system.

Elevated, glass-enclosed booths along two walls will care for broadcasting and television. Press galleries flank the room on the other two sides. Two smaller rooms have been converted into a private conference room for the Council and a lounge with a 20-foot mahogany bar.

Press Accommodated

Considerable space has been given over to the press, including the swimming pool now covered to form the principal news room.

Batteries of telephones line the corridors and thousands of feet of telegraph wires have been strung to carry the stories of hundreds of newsmen.

One New York City bank has set up a branch in Davis Hall.

Double signs on doors—English and French—are the official languages to the corridors where once strolled Hunter's co-eds.

Outside are extensive grounds and diversified scenery. On one side the waters of a reservoir lap

Kingston, land on Lounsberry avenue.

Margaret J. Johnson of town Plattkill to Edna C. Johnson of town Plattkill, land in town Plattkill.

Wedemeyer Returning

Shanghai, March 22 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, upon return from a tour of North China and Korea, has announced he would leave by plane April 2 for the United States. The commander of U. S. forces in the China theatre will undergo a sinus operation and presumably will discuss China's political problems, including the Manchurian situation, with President Truman and Army chiefs.

Huge Fire Sweeps Pittsburgh Area

Three Blocks Ravaged in Golden Triangle; Damage Estimate at $700,000

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—Fire swept with explosive fury through a three block area in downtown Pittsburgh early today, destroying a dozen food and supply buildings and doing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000.

Fourteen firemen were hurt by falling debris and toppling walls and 40 freight carsloads of butter, lard, sugar, paint, coal and other products were burned.

The fire was described by firemen as the worst the city has experienced in 30 years.

Flames were controlled at 4 a. m., but 22 lines of hose still spouted millions of gallons of water into the buildings to quench smoldering flames.

The fire leaped from building to building in the three block area from First to Fourth avenue, in the lower tip of the Golden Triangle.

A system of inter-locking trestles on the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway, two and three story supply buildings and one-story distributing houses were fire swept.

City Police Supt. Harvey Scott summoned members of his bomb and arson squad to inspect the ruins in search for cause of the fire.

Several explosions occurred. Firemen attributed these to grease and to a number of mercury tanks stored in one of the buildings.

Fire Chief William Davis estimated the damage at $500,000 but some business men whose property was lost said losses would approach $700,000.

Three Blocks Ravaged in Golden Triangle; Damage Estimate at $700,000

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—Fire swept with explosive fury through a three block area in downtown Pittsburgh early today, destroying a dozen food and supply buildings and doing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000.

Fourteen firemen were hurt by falling debris and toppling walls and 40 freight carsloads of butter, lard, sugar, paint, coal and other products were burned.

The fire was described by firemen as the worst the city has experienced in 30 years.

Flames were controlled at 4 a. m., but 22 lines of hose still spouted millions of gallons of water into the buildings to quench smoldering flames.

The fire leaped from building to building in the three block area from First to Fourth avenue, in the lower tip of the Golden Triangle.

A system of inter-locking trestles on the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway, two and three story supply buildings and one-story distributing houses were fire swept.

City Police Supt. Harvey Scott summoned members of his bomb and arson squad to inspect the ruins in search for cause of the fire.

Several explosions occurred. Firemen attributed these to grease and to a number of mercury tanks stored in one of the buildings.

Fire Chief William Davis estimated the damage at $500,000 but some business men whose property was lost said losses would approach $700,000.
